TWO YOUNG NEGROES LYNCHED

TEN THOUSAND ARE DROWNED IN CHINA WHEN DIKE BREAKS

EYE WITNESSES TELL VIVID STORY TRAGEDY; ANOTHER RISE FEARED

HANKOW, China, July 15.—(AP)—It was estimated today that 10,000 persons had perished when the flood waters of the Han river surged through a like near Hanyang and overwhelmed a large area of the thickly populated countryside.

Members of a Chinese motorboat crew who saw the bursting of the dike while crossing the river brought back a vivid eyewitness account of the disaster.

"It was a horrible sight," one of them said. "A wall of water literally leaped through the breach, sweeping everything before it—houses, livestock and humans.

"The survivors must have been pitifully few for the people were taken utterly by surprise and had no time to seek safety."

Two-thirds of Hanyang itself, adjacent to Hankow, was estimated to be under water. The remainder of the city is situated on hills to which much of the populace fled while the water boiled and eddied about their homes.

Worst Flood in History.

The Han river flood has far outstripped in severity the previous rampages of this river, the district—which survived the disasters of 1870 and 1931—lying shattered by the seething torrents.

The water mark of the Yangtze river at Hankow dropped slightly late today but this city, too, was menaced with the dikes already weakened by the pounding waters.

A further rise, however, was predicted. The roaring stream has ripped a section ten feet deep and one-third of a mile long from the Changkung dike, principal bulwark protecting the city.

The authorities ordered thousands of [illegible] and refugees from other [illegible] work on repairs for the [illegible] and the entire military garrison was summoned to the scene.

ELABORATE PLANS RESOURCES BOARD BEEN ABANDONED

PROGRAM MAPPED OUT BY BOARD HEADED BY ICKES FOUND BE IMPRACTICAL

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—High officials said today that elaborate plans prepared by the National Resources Board—on which President Roosevelt originally based the $4,000,000,000 work relief program—have been abandoned so far as the present jobs drive is concerned.

Lack of money and the need for speed in getting started toward the goal of 3,500,000 jobs were given as the chief reasons. With Secretary Ickes as its chairman, the board submitted to Mr. Roosevelt last year a co-ordinated public works program to improve land, water and mineral resources. It suggested a permanent works program which might involve expenditure of $125,000,000,000 in the next half century.

Explaining some of the delays in the present works program, one high official said today that it was not until May, after the work relief act was passed that any plans for spending the huge appropriation existed except for

FIFTEEN KILLED ON TEXAS ROADS OVER PAST WEEKEND

FOUR HEAD-ON COLLISIONS ACCOUNT FOR TEN LIVES ON DEATH LIST

(By The Associated Press.)

Fifteen persons were killed by Texas automobile traffic over the week-end as the Lone Star State led the nation in highway fatalities.

Ten of the victims died from four head-on collisions.

Glen McClain and Paul Henry McClain of George, Miss Vivian Forehand of Beaumont, and Earl Duhon, 24, of Sour Lake, were injured fatally in a smash-up a mile north of Conroe. Others injured were Charles Martin, 22, Orange; Bryan Gergory, 20, Sour Lake; Joe Coleman, 24, Huntsville, and Gervaise Jordan of Sour Lake.

Chester H. Watson, Amarillo tire dealer, and Charles M. Shewmaker, Borger corbon black plant superintendent, were killed in a wreck near Amarillo, and Miss Ruth Redell, 23, Amarillo, was hurt critically.

Lloyd Wiseman, 28, Vega, was killed and five were hurt in another head-on wreck near Amarillo. Injured were Mrs. Delia Morris and Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cohen, Los Angeles; and Emory Bales and G. W. Drake, Vega.

Joyce Ferrell, 15, Calallen, was crushed to death when a truck overturned on him near Robstown. Ferrell was on the running board when the machine rolled over on

DR. J. D. HATHORN DIED AUGUSTA, GA., SATURDAY NIGHT

CORSICANA PHYSICIAN AND WORLD WAR VETERAN BE BURIED HERE TUESDAY

Dr. John D. Hathorn, aged 43 years, physician here for the past 12 years, died in the U. S. Veterans' hospital in Augusta, Ga., Saturday night at 6 o'clock. The remains will probably reach here Tuesday and the funeral will be held from the family residence, 2014 West Fourth avenue, Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, with interment in Oakwood cemetery.

Dr. Hathorn had been ill for the past several weeks. He was taken to the Veterans' hospital at Waco and then transferred to the hospital at Augusta. He was a native of Mississippi, having been born in Columbia, Marion county, Dec. 3, 1891. He came to Corsicana in 1923 from Jennings, La., and had been actively engaged in practice here since that time until his recent illness.

Dr. Hathorn was an ex-service man, having served two years in the medical corps during the World War, his service being mainly in the base hospital at San Antonio.

In 1925 Dr. Hathorn was married to Miss Neita Noble of Corsicana.

Surviving are his widow, a daughter, Dorothy, aged 7 years, Corsicana; five brothers, Claud, V. Hathorn, Reese Hathorn, Sam Hathorn, Fleet Hathorn and Nevin Hathorn, all of Mississippi; two sisters, Miss Ruth Hathorn, Mississippi, and Dr. Mary Maxwell Hathorn, New York City.

SECRECY STILL MAINTAINED CONCERNING POLITICAL PLANS LAID ON PRESIDENTIAL OUTING

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—Back from a week-end of fishing and shooting with President Roosevelt, democratic leaders faced a hot weather task of truly formidable proportions today.

They sought to hasten congressional action on a weighty list of controversial subjects. Although they still were mentioning August 15 as a desirable date for adjournment, they did so only in a half-hearted way. Most of them believed the session would go considerably beyond that.

If any plans laden with significance for 1936 for the present legislative fights were discussed during the outing at the Jefferson Island Club in Chesapeake Bay, all the leaders were mum about them today.

They insisted that it was an outing—just that and nothing more. Mr. Roosevelt returned by motor from Annapolis, where he had disembarked from the government yacht, Sequoia. He had a new coat of tan and he waved his hat jovially at a crowd near the dock.

Also returning with a party that included Vice-President Garner and many other democratic leaders was Postmaster General Farley, who had to get ready for a swing across the country starting today.

As he closed his desk, Farley still insisted that his trip to the west coast and the Hawaiian Islands is "strictly a vacation." Mrs. Farley and Ambrose O'Connell, his executive assistant, are going with him.

The week-end was reported to have restored harmony between two men who have been writing pungent letters to each other over the Virgin Islands investigation. A democrat who was on the outing said Secretary Ickes and Senator Tydings (D-Md.) spent much time together, "laughing and joking."

Last week Ickes assailed Tydings, methods in conducting the inquiry, and Tydings requested him, in effect, to attend to his own business.

Besides the Roosevelt tax program, which has yet to be drafted into bill form in the face of ve-

At left, the mammoth bag, partially inflated with helium, with the air-tight gondola, housing more than a ton of scientific equipment, ready to be wheeled under the balloon. At right, the huge envelope covering the gondola just after the escape of gas through a rent at the top had caused its collapse. MRS. A. D. KNEALE, FORMER CORSICANAN, DIED TULSA SUNDAY

FORMER LOUISE FROST WILL BE BURIED AT TULSA ON TUESDAY MORNING

Mrs. A. D. Kneale, wife of A. D. Kneale, secretary and treasurer of the Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation, Tulsa, died there at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, and funeral rites are planned at the First Episcopal church of Tulsa at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, relatives of the deceased were informed Sunday.

Surviving are her husband; one daughter, Miss Betty Kneale; two sons, Dell Kneale and Sam Frost Kneale, all of Tulsa; five sisters, Mrs. A. N. Justiss, Mrs. George E. Jester, Mrs. Max D. Almond, Mrs. Guy M. Gibson and Mrs. R. L. Calkins, all of Corsicana; two brothers, Roger Frost of Robstown, Tex., and Barry Frost, of Corsicana.

Mrs. Kneale will be remembered here as Miss Louise Frost, daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. Sam R. Frost, and granddaughter of C. M. Winkler, after whom the local Confederate camp is named. Mrs. Kneale grew into womanhood here where her charm and personality claimed many friends of her girlhood. As a bride she moved to

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP)—The entire United States has the main seat tonight for a total eclipse of the moon—the first for the whole country since 1927.

No one will have to stay up all night, and most folks won't have to be up even late to see this eclipse.

The curving edge of the earth's black shadow will cut into the side of the moon at 8:15 p. m. Central Standard time.

That is the moment when the moon touches a black cone, the earth's shadow, which extends

AMERICAN LABOR FEDERATION'S TWO BIG FAMILY SCRAPS NEAR CRUCIAL STAGE THIS WEEK

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor's two major family quarrels are nearing a crucial fight.

The larger of the two, the scrap between industrial and craft unionists, has grown so bitter that some labor men believe it threatens to split the federation.

The other controversy involves building trades workers. Talk of withdrawal from the federation has been heard among the chiefs of one set of building trades unions, at odds for the past year with another group over who should head the federation's building trades department.

Both fights are expected to break out anew at the August 5 meeting of the federation's executive council in Atlantic City, N. J. Both have been aggravated by recent developments.

Craft and Industrial Unions

Supporters of craft and industrial unions have been disputing for years over how mass production industries should be organized. Upholders of the craft union idea say, for example, that machinists at various coal mine machine shops should enlist in the machnists union.

The industrial unionists, on the other hand, contend all the workers in mass production industries should be organized by industry, not by trade. Machinists at the coal mines, they say, should belong to the United Mine Workers.

The federation convention last fall ordered William Green, A. F. of L. president, to organize the aluminum, automobile and cement industries upon industrial lines. When the executive council decided to charter the United Automobile workers, however, it stipulated that several craft unions were to have jurisdiction over certain classes of auto workers.

Jurisdictional Fight.

A jurisdictional fight over craftsmen at the Anaconda Copper Company's mines and the machinists' repeated attempts to organize machinists at coal mines have kept the feud white-hot.

Green's call for a building trades lepartment convention here August 1 has stirred up the other scrap again.

"Green is doing the very thing right now that the court said he didn't have any right to do," Michael J. McDonough, called president of the department by one set of unions, told newspapermen.

McDonough said the 12 unions supporting him would not attend the convention. He also pointed out that he had filed an appeal from the District of Columbia supreme court's decision that neither he nor J. W. Williams, the other "president," was legally elected.

SENATE CONTINUES CARVE AMENDMENTS FROM AAA MEASURE

POULTRY, QUEEN AND PACKAGE BEES ARE LATEST ITEMS WITHDRAWN

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—The senate today continued carving at the AAA amendment bill by knocking poultry, package bees and queen bees from the commodities subject to marketing control by the secretary of agriculture.

The action came after Chairman Smith of the senate agriculture committee, sponsor of the bill on the floor, upbraided committee members for failing last week to defend some committee amendments.

He appeared particularly incensed that no defending voice was raised in behalf of the senate amendment including fruits for canning among the products subject to regulatory "orders." The house had voted to exempt fruits for canning and the senate Friday upheld the house view by throwing out the senate committee amendment.

Package bees and queen bees went out of the bill to the accompaniment of much tittering among the senators. Poultry was knocked out on motion of Senator Pope (D-Ida.), who had been responsible for having it added in committee. He said the American

OLD NEW ORLEANS REGULARS ABANDON TO OUST WALMSLEY

CAUCUS DECIDED LET MATTER OF MAYOR'S RESIGNATION REST FOR PRESENT

NEW ORLEANS, July 15.—(AP)—Plans of the recently formed Long "old regular" coalition to force the resignation of Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley were abandoned today.

Leaders of the old regularlar Democratic organization, meeting in secret caucus, decided to let the matter of the mayor's resignation "rest at least for the time being."

At the same time the organization leaders who deserted Walmsley last Friday to join the ranks of Senator Huey P. Long in what they described as a move to end the political warfare between the two factions, reaffirmed their confidence in the action of a majority council Saturday, when three of the five commission members endorsed the swing to Long.

Senator Long, meanwhile, altered his plans to return to Washington. He remained at his hotel.

No reason was forthcoming from his headquarters for the change.

The action of the caucus was by a vote of 13 to 4, the same division that marked the ward leaders' decision to withdraw their support from the mayor and join hands with the Long organization.

Today's caucus had been called to map plans for a series of city-wide mass meetings to adopt resolutions addressed to the legislature demanding the mayor's ous-

PIONEER CORSICANA WOMAN PASSED AWAY ON SATURDAY NIGHT

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD SUNDAY AFTERNOON FOR MRS. LOUISE GOWAN

Mrs. Louise Gowan, aged 83 years, died at her apartment at 625 North Commerce street, Saturday night, following several years of declining health and several days of serious illness, and funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the home of Sidney Story, her nephew, 702 South Fifteenth street, with interment following in Oakwood cemetery beside her long-departed husband. The Rev. M. E. McPhail, pastor of the Third Avenue Presbyterian church, of which deceased had been a member since its organization, conducted the services.

Pallbearers were David E. Story, James B. Story and George Harvey, all of Dallas, and Guy Hamilton, E. C. Sears and C. B. Haley.

A quartet composed of Mesdames Ralph Stell and W. L. Kirk and Messrs. Edgar Metcalf and Lloyd G. Kerr sang several favorite hymns of the deceased.

Native of County.

Mrs. Gowan was born and reared in Navarro county and has been a resident of the county for her entire life, having resided in Corsicana for more than sixty-four years. She was the widow of Dr. James A. Gowan, early-day Corsicana dentist, who preceded her in death by 48 years. She was well known to the old-time residents of this city but due to feebleness has been unable to get around much the past several years. She was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church, being

MISSISSIPPI BLACKS TAKEN FROM OFFICER AND HANGED TO TREE

WERE CHARGED WITH HAVING ATTEMPTED ASSAULT WHITE WOMAN TWICE

COLUMBUS, Miss., July 15.—(AP)—Two young negro farmers, Bert Moore and Dooley Morton, each about 26 years of age, were lynched today eight miles south of Columbus by a mob of angry white citizens who wrested the prisoners from Deputy Sheriff Parker Harris, of Lowndes county and hanged them to a giant oak tree.

The negroes were arrested Sunday morning after two alleged attempted attacks on a white woman, the wife of an Arkansas lumber man, who resided about a mile from Zion negro church, the site of the double lynching.

The mob, reported to have numbered about 35 men, traveling in six automobiles, seized the two victims from the officer about 4 miles north of Columbus as Deputy Harris was seeking to spirit them away to Aberdeen for safekeeping.

The negroes were driven back through Columbus to the church eight miles south of the city where they were hung. Their bodies were left hanging to the tree and the mob quickly dispersed.

It was reported that the hands of the victims were tied behind their backs, ropes placed about their necks and they were dropped from the tops of moving automobiles.

No Shots Were Fired.

No shots were fired at the lynching and the bodies were hanging to the tree for the coroner.

A spirited search has been under way since the alleged attempted attacks. Officers reported that two weeks ago two negroes appeared at the home of the white woman and told her

RIGID PROBE AIR TRAGEDY HOLLAND ORDERED MONDAY

SIX LIVES LOST IN CRASH NEAR AIRPORT; FOURTEEN OTHERS ESCAPE

AMSTERDAM, July 15.—(AP)—Authorities ordered a rigid investigation today into the series of disasters to the Netherlands' air liners after Sunday's tragedy in which six persons were killed at the Schiphol aerodrome.

The giant American-made Fokker plane which crashed into a dyke and burst into flames yesterday soon after taking off for Hamburg was the third "flying hotel" of the Netherlands wrecked in little more than six months.

The charred wreckage of the great four-motored ship was sealed. Not even officials of the air line were permitted to approach.

A post mortem disclosed that the six victims — including two English passengers whose curiosity to inspect the operating mechanism led to their being trapped in the pilot's compartment—died before the flames reached them.

Thirteen other passengers and one member of the crew escaped through a small rear door, which burst open in the crash.

FIGHT ON ELLIOTT ROOSEVELT BY FACTION YOUNG DEMOCRATS OF TEXAS BE RENEWED TUESDAY

FORT WORTH, July 15.—(AP)—Elliott Roosevelt, whose vice-presidency of the Texas Young Democrats was the subject of a siege recently by rebellious Dallas county members, will know tomorrow whether a sortie arranged by his friends will pull him out of the political frying pan.

The son of the President had a staunch defender in Raymond Buck, Fort Worth attorney, and chairman of the state executive committee which will hear the rebels' case tomorrow. Buck not only said that no effort to unseat Roosevelt was anticipated, but that "on the contrary there likely will be some action taken on a resolution dealing properly with those who caused the dispute in Dallas."

Phil Overton, Dallas committee member, who organized the movement to unseat young Roosevelt, now a Fort Worth resident, answered Buck's statement:

"Certainly we still intend to go through with the effort to remove Roosevelt. Yes, we have strong hopes that the movement [illegible] successful."

Declines to Outline Plans.

Overton, whose battle shout has been "Texas run by Texans and not a New Yorker," declined to detail his plans because "that might help them really think up some way to block us."

The Overton group brought the feeling against Roosevelt into the open two weeks ago, offering a resolution demanding that the state executive committee remove Roosevelt.

The resolution was defeated at a county meeting here which went on record favoring all new deal phases and uproariously praising the President.

Overton announced the campaign would be carried to the secutice meeting.

Overton charges the President's son had been illegally elected to his post; was not familiar with political and governmental problems of Texas because of short residence, and was causing dissension in the organization.

The flare-up against the President's son began with a states'

COMPARATIVE QUIET IN BELFAST MONDAY AFTER NEW RIOTINGS

STEEL - HELMETED TROOPS WITH FIXED BAYONETS PATROL STREETS

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, July 15.—(AP)—Steel-helmeted troopers with fixed bayonets patrolled the streets today, alert for any new outbreak of the disturbances which resulted in five deaths and the wounding of 74 persons.

Comparative quiet prevailed during the early hours after a series of religious riots, originatng with last Friday's celebrations by the Protestant Orangemen of the 245th anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne.

The latest casualty was 7-year old Kathleen Stewart, who was shot down by a sniper from behind a chimney pot last night while she was playing on a street. She was taken to a hospital with a bullet in her shoulder.

A search for arms was pressed today. Police took elaborate precautions to prevent further bloodshed during the funeral for two of Friday's victims, Mary Broderick, 29, and Edward Withers, 18.

An armored car was detailed to accompany both funeral processions to the cemetery. The place of burial was kept secret.

The disorders reached a climax late yesterday, marked by looting and incendarism, as crowds wrecked four shops and set fire to two of them. The two shops were destroyed, but other fires were extinguished, and troops routed the rioters.

The utilities bill, the social security bill, the amendments designed to broaden the AAA and clinch its constitutionality, the omnibus banking bill, the resolution aimed to prevent suits for recovery of damages alleged to have been suffered by the government's abrogation of the "gold clause" in its securities; the Guffey coal regulation bill. Some of these have been passed by both houses of congress, and are in conference, but on none of them the fighting yet finished.

TAX PLANS

to limit the tax bill to the levies Mr. Roosevelt suggested.

Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio) was one of those who refused to be bound, in fact, he did not even know that the committee had voted to limit its hearings—and tacitly its tax bill—to the matters outlined in the President's message.

"I certainly didn't vote that way," Jenkins said. "Even the republicans who were present at the secret meeting when that agreement was reached refused to vote.

Sales Tax Advocated.

Rep. Treadway of Massachussetts, ranking republican on the committee, long has advocated two measures and he is likely to offer them as amendments.

They are the sales tax, and the idea of forbidding the federal government to issue any more tax exempt securities. President Roosevelt has proposed a ban on future issuance of tax exempt bonds but he wants it don by a constitutional amendment. His supporters say the amendment should apply to the restriction to federal and state bonds simultaneously, giving neither an advantage over the other.

The democrats generally feel that they are bound to vote only for: "(1) New taxes on inheritances;" (2) increased taxes on gifts; (3) stiffer levies on large incomes, probably those above $100,000 a year; (4) new taxes of some kind on corporation incomes; (5) levies on dividends received by corporations, to prevent "evasion" of the corporation income assessment.

No Decision on Rates

There has been no decision by the committee on specific rates, and there is no prospect of one for several days. The democrats are divided on whether they should decide first what rates to fix or how much money to raise. They hae drafted, for purposes of the hearings, 29 schedules which would apply varying rates and raise from $118,000,000 to $901.500,000 a year.

Today, while tax and bill-drafting experts worked on a measure for the committee to consider, members talked informally about the proposals. They also met to give final approval to a bill setting up a federal alcohol control administration as a division in the treasury. The agency would administer laws which, in effect, would continue codes that existed under the old FACCA.

Two Negroes Are Charged Killing Station Employe

CORPUS CHRISTI, July 15.—(AP)—Sheriff Hugh White of Jackson county was expected here today to question two negroes charged with the killing of Byron Belschner, Edna filling station employe.

Officers here believed an important link in the case was the finding of blood-stained clothes at a spot near Refugio yesterday. One of the two accused Edna negroes, Oscar and Coupie Brown, was taken by Sheriff William Shely to the place where the clothing, believed discarded by a suspect before coming here, was found.

Belschner's trussed and weighted body was found in the Navidad river Friday. He had been shot three times.

Sheriff White arrested the negroes here and returned to Edna without them because of high feeling in the south Texas town.

additional measures of military character.

Today's orders bring the number of regular army divisions destined for East Africa to five. Five blackshirt divisions also have been created. This means Italy will have at least 250,000 men for service against Ethiopia should war begin.

Thet communique said Il Duce had called out specialistis and Technical experts of the classes of 1909, 1910 and 1912, and summoned new quotas of pilots and specialists for the aircraft.

The communique, issues through the ministry of propaganda, confirmed rumors of further mobilization orders current here for the last six weeks

Ordered to Africa was the Sila division of the regular army, under the command of General Bertini. A new regular army division, to be known as Sila II, will be created to take its place in the national defense forces. General De Michelis will command the new unit.

The new blackshirt division will be called the "First of February"—the date of the founding of the fascist militia. It will be commanded by General Attilio Teruzzi, long Mussolini's general commander of te blackshirt division.

The announcement said new blackshirt divisions would be organized rapidly to replace those moved to Africa.

War Inevitable Is View.

The inevitableness of war between Italy and Ethiopia was viewed here as emphasized after Emperor Haile Selissie's statement that Ethiopia would not accept an Italian zone of influence or construction of a railroad through Ethiopia.

Authoritative sources pointed out that Italy wants much more than these two concessions—namely, a total protectorate—but that if the Ethopian emperor refuses small concessions, he would also reject the larger one.

Emperor Haile Selassie's statement, made Saturday to the New York Times, aroused recollections of his protest to the League of Nations over the Anglo-Italian treaty of 1925, granting Italy a zone of influence in Ethopia and the right to construct a railroad from Somaliland to Addis Ababa.

Outside Effort Unwanted.

Authoritative sources asserted that any further efforts by outsiders to moderate Italy's policy toward Ethopia were sure to meet with coolness from the government to Premier Benito Mussolini.

They were convincted that the aggressive policies toward East Africa remained intact, despite Ethiopia's appeal to the United States for invocation of the Briand-Kellogg pact and British moves toward further league jurisdiction.

The pronouncement against war by Secretary of state Cordell Hull of the United States was received with reserve. The controlled fascist press was cautioned not to lead the public into too great an expectancy of American friendliness for the Italian cause.

Warlike preparations moved on apace, with two blackshirt divisions, "The 28th of October" and "The 23rd of March" being groomed near Naples for early embarkation to East Agrica.

Informed circles believed that the last two weeks in September ending the rainy season, would be the decisive ones.

PICNICKERS MAY SOME DAY BE ABLE TO PLAN WEATHER AS WELL AS MENUS SEVERAL DAYS AHEAD

CHICAGO, July 15.—(AP)—Picnickers may some day be able to plan on the weather as well as the menu several days in advance.

Dr. Irving Krick said today that scientific weather observers were approaching longer range and more accurate forecasts than previously have been possible.

Dr. Kirk, assistant professor of meteorology in the Daniel Guggenheim graduate school of aeronautics at the California Institute of Technology, is an exponent of the Norwegian-originated belief that observation of the tropopause boundaries is an important factor in weather prediction.

The tropopause, he explained, is the boundary between the troposhere, or lower layer of the earth's atmosphere, and the stratosphere.

"The oscillations, or variation in the height, of the tropopause apparently are due to horizontal movements in the upper layers of the troposphere and the lower layers of the stratosphere," Dr. Kirk said.

"These lead to large scale changes in the troposphere pressure distribution, which in turn enables forecasters to anticipate general conditions for several days over the affected area. Also the periods of active interaction between air masses of the troposphere may be anticipated some time before they develop."

In California, Dr. Kirk said, conditions are such that his staff has been able to make accurate predictions up to ten days. "General atmospheric conditions do not yield oscillations of the troposphere of the same magnitude in central and eastern part of the nation and predictions for those sections cannot be made on the same scale until we know more of the relation of the movements," he explained.

The new forecasters divide air masses of the United States into six general classes depending upon the region over which they attain identifying characteristics. When masses of different types get together, the forecasters know what probably will happen.

Fairfield All-Star Playground Ballers Defeated Sinclairs

Fairfield's all-star playground ball team defeated Sinclair, of the local softball loop, 2-0, in a match game on the illuminated high school ball orchard Saturday night. Fairfield collected a half dozen hits, while Sinclair made but three.

The local all-star team has been dismantled but teams in the two leagues are permitted t match games with out of town all-star teams for each Saturday night. Sinclair was the first to take advantage of the new ruling.

Bond Election Is Called at Thornton

THORNTON, July 15.—(Spl.)—A city election has been called for August 12, for the purpose of voting on the issuance of $10,000 worth of bonds to pay part of the cost of constructing a waterworks and sewer system for Thornton. The bonds are to be serial, for 25 years, at 4 per cnet interest. The remainder of the cost will be in revenue bonds of the waterworks. A PWA grant has been obtained to aid in the project.

Peculiar Growth Of Corn Exhibited By Purdon Farmer

E. L. Hardy of Purdon R. No. 2 was exhibiting some corn here Saturday that drew considerable comment. On several of the stalks as many as five 'shoots" had branched out and from what should have been ears of corn tassels had grown. On some of the tassels there was a green growth resembling to a great extent young corn.

Superintendent For Ft. Parker Project Announced at Mexia

MEXIA, July 15.—(Spl.)—W. F. Ayres, now of Burnet, Texas, will be the superintendent of construction for Fort Parker State Park near here. Mr. Ayres, together with A. A. Blinks of the federal park service, was here last week looking over his new assignment. An 800-acre lake is the first problem for the CCC camp, which will be located at Springfield, on Highway 14. The barracks are practically completed and the camp will move in soon.

BALLOON BURSTS JUST BEFORE TIME TAKEOFF SCHEDULED

NO ONE INJURED BUT GIANT BAG COLLAPSED FROM UNKNOWN CAUSE

RAPID CITY, S. D., July 12.—(AP)—The giant National Geographic-U. S. Army Air Corps stratosphere balloon collapsed early today shortly after inflation was completed for the first flight of the year, and eight hours later no announcement had been made as to what caused the unexpected mishap.

Indications were that any information made public would have to come from sources other than the base here. Newspapermen were not permitted to enter the balloon inflation area and Captain Albert W. Stevens, flight commander, said all official reports must come from Washington, either through the Army Air Corps or the Geographic Society.

RAPID CITY, S. D., July 12.—(AP)—Disaster overtook the National Geographic Society—U. S. Army air corps stratosphere balloon here early this morning as the giant bag collapsed from an unexplained cause one hour before the scheduled takeoff at 4 a. m. (Mountain Standard time.)

No one was injured, but five men working on the gondola preparatory to lashing the metal ball to the balloon were forced to jump to safety. Guards also scattered quickly to avoid injury.

The top of the mammoth bag burst open without warning, permitting 375,000 cubic feet of helium gas to escape and definitely halting the projected flight.

Captain Albert W. Stevens, flight commander, said he had "absolutely no explanation" for the mishap. He added that an investigation would be made but that nothing would be done until later in the morning.

Top Bursts Open.

Spectators watching the preparations for the flight said the balloon ground ropes suddenly slackened and the top of the bag opened like a paper sack exploding. As the helium, a colorless gas, rushed out, a blue haze appeared.

The haze, officials of the National Geographic society at Washington said they believed, was caused by talcum powder which was inside the balloon. However, they said, the powder, which had been used in folding the balloon to prevent friction, could not have caused the accident.

Pending investigation the mass of fabric was left untouched in the middle of the big illuminated ring where the balloon was being prepared for the flight.

The flight staff as well as spectators massed on the cliffs, apparently stunned by the shock. After the initial confusion the crowd slowly began to scatter.

Flight officials said an attempt would be made to reconstruct the accident as nearly as possible in an effort to determine the cause.

They planned to examine the fabric inch by inch to see where and how the break occurred.

About One-Eighth Capacity.

Before the collapse the helium was concentrated in the top of the bag, which was inflated to only about one-eighth its capacity. This was to allow for expansion in the sun's heat.

Sgt. C. W. Money, of the U. S. Army air corps aat Scott Field, Ill., one of the men who was working on top of the gondola, described the mishap.

"I was working on a cross bar on top of the gondola," he said. "Suddenly I felt the ropes slacken. The next thing I knew the whole fabric came down on me."

J. F. Cooper of the Goodyear-Zeppelin corporation at Akron, O., makers of the balloon, said he knew of no reason for the collapse.

Officials of the Geographic society, which financed the $175,000 expedition, would not comment immediately regarding the possibility of a later flight.

Some Relief Is Felt.

The first reaction at the flight camp was one of relief that the accident did not occur after the take-off. It also was pointed out that had such a mishap occurred in last year's flight, when explosive hydrogen was used, the result might have been calamitous. Helium is non-explosive and non-inflammable.

Mrs. Orvil A. Anderson, wife of the balloon pilot, was one of the first to rush onto the scene, searching for her husband. He was unhurt.

Mrs. Anderson said her first thought was that she was thankful "if it had to happen that it happened when it did."

"I'm sick with disappointment," she said, "particularly for Capt. Stevens and Andy."

Asked about her reaction to another flight, however, she said, she would not oppose her husbands taking part.

The collapse of the balloon which was said to be the world's largest, brought an abrupt end to 15 hours' feverish activity in the rock bound bowl, 11 miles from here.

Six Weeks of Delay.

After nearly six weeks of delay principally because of unsuitable weather, the start was decided on yesterday noon. A crew of 300 soldiers was summoned to inflate the bag. At midnight, while a crowd of thousands of persons watched from the cliffs 500 feet above, the stratosphere force completed inflation.

At 2:25 a. m., the balloon was in proper position and a crew started rolling the gondola beneath the bag. The next step was lashing the metal ball to the balloon by a network of ropes and webbing. It was while this task was being performed that the top of the helium filled fabric gave way.

Watching were the men who planned to climb into the gondola and soar at least a dozen miles above the earth. Carefully they watched every test as they planned their work in the stratosphere.

Foremost among their aims was the collection of data for study of the little known cosmic rays which continuously bombard the earth from a mysterious source. Although "cosmic radiation" has been known for more than 30 years, scientists were eager to learn more.

Other Purposes of Flight.

Other purposes of the flight were to have been measurements of temperature and barometic pressure changes, collection of samples of stratosphere air, spectrographic studies of sunlight and skylight, sky brightness, sun brightness and earth brightness, wind direction and velocity, electrical conductivity of the upper air, spore studies, radio research and others.

Photographic studies also were planned.

Precautions had been taken so that there would be no recurrence of last year's near disaster when the balloon ripped and the crew of explorers was forced to take to parachutes. In addition to their individual parachutes, there was an 80-foot parachute attached to the gondola of this year's balloon which in case of accident was expected to slow the fall sufficiently to permit the fliers to jump and then bring the lightened gondola and its precious instruments to earth without major damage.

Climaxed Year of Preparation

The crushing misfortune which so unexpectedly disrupted the expedition climaxed almost a year's preparation. Plans for the attempt were started immediately after the flight last July ended in near disaster over Central Nebraska.

The flight today was to have been the most ambitious undertaking of its kind ever attempted. The balloon, made of approximately 3 2-3 acres of rubberized cotton fabric, was the largest ever built. The nine-foot gondola also was of record size. Captain Anderson was confident the craft would break the official record of 11.6 miles, with prospects of reaching a height of 14 miles.

Just what caused the mammoth bag to rip at the eleventh hour will not be determined until the investigation is completed. Plans called for inspection of the fabric sometime today. As heavy dew covered the grass at the flight base, and officials decided to wait until it evaporated before unrolling the balloon.

To Make Official Report.

Captain Stevens said he would make an official report to the war department at Washington and Geographic Society officials indicated they also would report through their Washington headquarters.

"What stunned us regarding the aocident," Capt. Stevens said, "was that everything had gone so smoothly and extra precautions had been taken to make the balloon as strong as possible. Special efforts were made to have the top strong, and it was probably three times as strong as the top in last year's bag."

Capt. Stevens spoke of the disappointment to the army and Geographic society, explaining that the latter suffered a severe financial loss. The cost of the expedition was placed at $175,000. He said the army would be partially repaid by training given men in balloon handling.

Capt. Anderson, obviously greatly disappointed, had no comment.

Cause of Blue Haze.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—(AP)—A blue haze which seemed to burst from the top of the stratosphere balloon when it collapsed today in South Dakota was explained by officials of the National Geographic society.

They said they believed it was caused by talcum powder which was inside the balloon. The powder had been used in folding the balloon to prevent friction.

Helium would not cause the haze, officals said, because it is colorless. Nor could the talcum have caused the accident.

The society, which is sponsoring the stratosphere attempt with the army, was in close touch with the scene of the collapse by short wave radio, but reports here said the cause of the accident had not been determined.

"The balloon seemed to wilt suddenly," a message from the scene said. "No one was injured."

There was no immediate indication as to how soon the flight could be attempted again.

PURVIS, NEMESIS OF DILLINGER AND FLOYD, RESIGNS AS HEAD OF CHICAGO OFFICE OF G-MEN

CHICAGO, July 12.—(AP)—Melvin Purvis, head of the Chicago office of the department of justice's bureau of investigation and the man who directed the successful hunt for John Dillinger, announced today he has resigned from the justice department.

Purvis said that he was giving up his government job to take over new duties. His plans, he said, were too indefinite to disclose at the present time.

His resignation, he said, had been accepted by his chief at Washington, J. Edgar Hoover. He prepared to leave his office today.

Purvis said he would remain in Chicago.

Purvis, a normally mild mannered southerner, was the most dangerous nemesis of the desperado.

A youthful attorney who turned sleuth, Purvis directed the final search that resulted in the death of Charles Arthur (Pretty Boy) Floyd in Ohio, and it was his men who shot down John Dillinger in Chicago.

Purvis Good Marksman.

Whether Purvis himself actually fired the shot that laid Floyd low last October probably never will be known—but he's a good marksman. He wouldn't admit that he fired the fatal shot at Dillinger in front of a north side theater on July 22, 1934, but men who were there said his gun barked first.

Purvis hadn't been heard of much until the hunt intensified for Dillinger. In fact, if he had his way, much wouldn't be heard of him yet. But his work, and the labor of the men under him, made him a national figure.

Dealing with the public, Purvis is a calm personified. The ubiquitous reply he has to all questions is: "Sorry, Colonel, I have no comment to make."

He had been chief of the Chicago bureau of the department of investigation less than three years but during his tenure he has brought in—dead or alive—some of the most dangerous desperadoes of the decade.

Rounded Up Touhy Gang.

He was credited with rounding up most of the hoodlums who followed Roger Touhy and with sending Roger Touhy, himself, and his three lieutenants to prison for the kidnaping of John Factor.

Purvis engineered the raid on a north side barber shop which resulted in the capture of Verne Sankey, temporary public enemy No. 1, charged with the abduction of Charles Boettcher, 2nd, Denver. Sankey committed suicide rather than face trial.

A few hours later his men rounded up Gordon Alcorn, running mate of Sankey, and saw him put behind the bars.

Only 31, slender, blond and serious, what few words he offers are spoken in a soft, southern drawl. He is a native of South Carolina. A graduate of a well known law school in 1925, he entered the government service three years later.

After holding posts in the Carolinas and Texas, Purvis was first placed in charge of the bureau at Birmingham, Ala.

Transferred to Chicago, he plunged into the investigation of the collapse of Samuel Insull's power empire for which the former English immigrant was tried on a mail fraud charge along with 16 others.

He was given command of the staff here on November 23, 1932.

Ladd Becomes Chief.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—(AP)—Appointment of D. M. Ladd to succeed Melvin H. Purvis as chief of the "G-Men" at Chicago was announced today by the department of justice.

Officials declined comment on Purvis' resignation and further information regarding Ladd was not immediately available.

CHARGED UTILITY EXECUTIVES SPENT LARGE LOBBY FUNDS

ASSESSMENT MADE AGAINST METERS OF COMPANIES FOR PURPOSE

By PRESTON G. GROVER
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—(AP)—Expenditure of more than $300,000 by the power industry in an effort to defeat the provision of the utilities bill for mandatory abolition of "unnecessary" holding companies was described today to the senate lobby committee.

Opening without a moment's advance notice, the committee also received testimony that a large number of local public utility executives were brought to Washington to tell of the sentiment back home toward the bill.

This evidence was received from Philip H. Gadsden, chairman of the committee of public utility executives formed last winter to battle the measure.

Questioned by Chairman Black, Gadsden said $1,000,000 was not too low an estimate for the salaries and expenses of the utilities men brought here.

Meanwhile, the house sent to conference the utilities bill to adjust differences with the senate over the abolition provision desired by President Roosevelt. The senate approved this by a one-vote margin and the house twice rejected it.

Five house interstate commerce committee members were named to seek with equal number from the senate to compose the differences between the senate utilities bill and the house measure.

House Committeemen.

They are: Chairman Rayburn of Texas and Representatives Huddleston of Alabama, and Lea of California, Democrats; and Cooper of Ohio, and Holmes of Massachusetts, republicans.

Although the senate conferees are favorable to the disputed "death sentence" the house group was inclined more to the compromise measure Huddleston, Cooper and Holmes have been flatly against the senate bill with Rayburn and Lea lined up for it.

Gadden took the stand along with young looking Burnham Carter of New York, who described himself as a "publicity man" on the staff of Ivy Lee and T. J. Ross public relations organization.

Black opened the investigation by ordering a roundup of all records of the utility organizations.

Estimated Millions Spent.

"Will the committee investigate the government lobby on the bill?" Blasck was asked.

"I don't know," he responded.

He estimated that "millions" had been spent to defeat the bill.

By an assessment of one half cent a meter of the companies, Radsgen said, the committee of executives raised about $200,000 of which $151,000 has been spent

In addition, he related, the Edison Electric Institute of New York contributed $150,000.

Of this, he said $75,000 each was paid to two law firms, Sullivan and Cromwell and Simpson, Tacher and Bartlett, both of New York.

T. Justin Moore of Richmond also was employed, but Gadsden said his compensation had not been determined by the utility executives.

LIGHTNING, WIND AND SLIGHT RAIN FRIDAY EVENING

Corsicana and Navarro county were visited by heavy electrical disturbances, high winds, and a light rain Friday night, resulting in considerably lower temperatures Saturday. The ranfall was officially reported at .27 inch.

Trees, shrubs and flowers in almost every section of the city were twisted and broken, and a number of old trees were topped and otherwise badly damaged. Telephone and power connections in various sections of the city were disrupted by falling limbs breaking connections, and several transformers were damaged by lightning.

Seventeen telephone circuits were reported disrupted near Trumbull from 10 to 12:30 Friday night, and three lines were burned out near Garrett. Waxahachie reported a big rain and electrical display. The Southern Pacific railway signal blocks were reported disrupted for a few hours.

The winds and electrical display with light showers were reported general over the county, with the showers harder in the eastern portions of the area.

Angus Farmer Is Unlucky and Lucky Saturday Morning

L. P. Tilton of Angus was considerably worried for a short time Saturday afternoon.

He lost $13 in currency and did not miss it until he made a purchase downtown. Remembering that he had pulled his tobacco from his pocket while sitting on the walk near the sheriff's office at the courthouse, Tilton hurriedly retracked his trip to town and found the money lying where it had been pulled from his pocket.

The money was in plain view but no one had seen it, although several persons had walked by the place.

Wortham Youth Was Victim of Heat

WORTHAM, July 13.—(Spl.)—Funeral services for Nig Young, 18, heat victim who fell dead in the CCC camp at Coolidge Tuesday, was held in the First Baptist church in Wortham, the Rev. V. A. Geeo conducting the service, after which the large funeral cortege escorted the body to Woodland cemetery near Kirven for interment.

The deceased was reared here and in the community. Surviving are his parents, two sisters and two brothers, all of Wortham.

District Court.

Arguments of attorneys in the case of J. V. Lyles, et al., vs. Mrs. Roxana Archer, et al., partition, were in progress in the Thirteenth judicial district court Saturday morning. The trial has been under way all of the week.

District Clerk's Office.

The following case was filed: Cora George, vs. Walter George, divorce and injunction.

Commissioners' Court.

The application for Aubrey Farmer and Sam Levine, special deputies for the office of R. L. Harris, assessor-collector of taxes, at $3 per day for working on the tax roll was granted by the commissioners' court at its special session Saturday.

County Judge C. E. McWilliams read a letter from state officials to teh effect that the state will pay the interest and 75 per cent of the principal and sinking fund requirements during 1936 for bonds in Navarro county used for the improvement and construction of state highways. The state paid the interest and only 50 per cent of the principal and sinking fund in 1935.

Joe B. and John T. Fortson appeared before the court relative to repairs on bridges spanning Chambers creek, both the old and new channels, between Emhouse and Rice.

Messrs. Fortson also spoke in favor of the proposed allotment of $2,500 for an additional fire engine for the city of Corsicana with the provision that the local fire department answer calls to the towns in the county. Joe B. Fortson was strongly in favor of the proposal, pointing out protection and aid given communities outside of the city on former occasions. County Judge McWilliams said he did not think the court could legally make such an appropriation.

An emergency budget for $2,000 for the depleted jury fund was passed.

O. L. Hazelwood, relief project engineer, met with the court and a round-table discussion was held relative to proposed road improvement projects, utilizing relief labor, as contemplated in various sections of the county.

Definite decision on the proposals will likely be deferred until a later date. The commissioners are getting all details, data and information available and several road projects may be launched.

County Clerk's Office.

The following cases were filed: C. J. Maner, receiver, the First National Bank in Blooming Grove, Texas, vs. Lloyd Hill et al, suit on note.

Stroud-Dockum Grocery Company vs. W. G. Wood, suit on note.

One was fined on an affray complaint by Judge W. T. McFadden.

John B. Holsey was bound over to await the action of the grand jury Friday afternoon at the conclusion of examining trials on bond in the sum of $500 by Judge M. Bryant on a formal charge of burglary and theft in connection with the burglarizing of the Southern Junk Company, July 5, when a quantity of brass and copper was taken. The arrest was made by city officers.

Dave Mayfield, negro, was bound over to await the action of the grand jury Friday afternoon after an examining trial was conducted before Judge Bryant on a formal charge of assault with intent to murder as a result of the alleged shooting at Dave Jones, negro, several days ago when Willie Mae Neal, negress, was fatally shot in East Corsicana. Bond was set at $750. Jones was not injured.

Sheriff's Office.

Deputy Sheriffs Jack Floyd and Allen Calloway and City Officer Dave Seaton arrested a Mexican and confiscated 250 bottles of home brew in a raid Friday night.

NEGRO AND WIFE HELD IN CONNECTION THEFT OF MONEY

A negress and her husband were in custody Saturday in connection with the alleged theft of $45 in currency from Mrs. Ed Jordan of Rice Thursday afternoon and county officers were continuing their investigations.

It was reported that the $45 was in clothing and that it was missed after the negress finished the family wash at the Jordan home.

The arrests were made Friday by Deputy Sheriff R. A. Edens of Rice. It was stated that $25 had been found at the negroes' home.

Formal theft complaints were accepted by C. L. Knox, assistant criminal district attorney Saturday.

OHIO COMMERCIAL BODY CRITICIZES FEDERAL TAX PLAN

DECLARES NEW MEASURE ONE OF SIX MAJOR MENACES RETARDING RECOVERY

By CLARENCE M. WRIGHT
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 12.—(AP)—Describing the President's new tax plan as one which would bring "redistribution of poverty" rather than wealth, the Ohio Chamber of Commerce today insisted it was "one of the six major menaces that hang over the country like a black cloud."

George B. Chandler of Columbus, representing the Ohio chamber, made that statement at a house ways and means committee hearing on the legislation.

His testimony was in line with the campaign opened last night by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to defeat hte program on the ground it is confiscatory, destructive, and a "perversion" of the federal taxing power.

Reports — which democratic chiefs denied—floated around capitol corridors meanwhile, that the tax bill would not be enacted at this session. Many congressmen would like to see it delayed.

The White House reported President Roosevelt is standing by his tax program and assumes congress will pass it before adjournment.

Inquiries about reports the President would sanction an adjournment after house action on the bill and call congress into special session in the autumn to complete senate work brought no affirmative reply at the executive office.

Other Five Menaces.

The other five "menaces" which Chandler said are "holding back recovery" were listed as:

"1. The destruction of representative government by converting congress into a rubber stamp; 2. Fomenting hostility to our constitution and hatred of the supreme court; 3. The entry of government into private business on a huge scale; 4. The destruction of the rights of the states and centralization of power in Washington, and 5, creating a race of mendicants, loafers and weaklings through abuse of relief and sentimental social legislation."

F. S. Ferguson, vice president of the General Time Instruments Corporation, controlling the Western Clock Company of LaSalle, Illinois, and the Seth Thomas clock company of Thomaston, Connecticutt, told the committee the suggested graduated tax would load an unjust burden on his concern.

He offered an amendment which would exempt holding companies using profits for subsidiary company expansion from payment of the graduated tax.

STARTING REPAIRS ON LEVEES WASHED OUT BY FLOODS

Repairs on levees in Levee Improvement districts No. 10 and 11 are ready to be started and the drag-line machine used in the construction of the embankments along Chambers creek years ago is on the ground preparatory to starting the work, Joe B. and John T. Fortson stated Saturday.

There are 10 breaks in the levees in district 10 and four in district 11, a total of 14.

It is expected that the outfit will be busy the entire summer making the necessary repairs.

No official announcement or infromation about repairs has been heard from other levee districts damaged by the high waters and floods on Chambers creek several weeks ago when large damage resulted by levee breaks and flooded crops.

Fairfield Masonic Degree Team Went Huntsville Monday

FAIRFIELD, July 12.—(Spl.)—On invitation Fairfield's traveling degree team exemplified the third degree in the Huntsville Masonic lodge Monday night. Those making the trip from Fairfield were H. B. Steward, W. A. Parker, Lee Kirgan, H. L. Robertson, L. W. Sheffield, L. DuPuy, Marvin Harris, Woodrow Gilfin and J. E. Lott.

Two M. M. degrees were conferred, after which the visitors were entertained with refreshments.

HINTED DISSENSION BETWEEN PURVIS AND HOOVER UNCONFIRMED

ONLY OFFICIAL STATEMENT SAYS THERE ARE NO REASONS FOR ANY COMMENT

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(AP)—A suggestion that dissension between Director J. Edgar Hoover and Melvin H. Purvis, Jr., ace of the Chicago force of "G-men" was behind Purvis' resignation went unconfirmed here today at the justice department.

After telephoning Hoover at Atlantic City, N. J., late yesterday, Justice officials said:

"Purvis has resigned and Mr. Hoover sees no reason for comment."

Although officials declined to comment on reports of dissension, an authoritative source said privately that friction between Hoover and Purvis was known to exist.

Several months ago, Hoover notly denied that Purvis had been relieved as agent in charge of Chicago, saying:

"That's 100 per cent wrong."

Persons familiar with the work of the "G-men" report the job has di advantages. A special agent is on call 24 hours a day and frequently is shifted back and forth among division points, sometimes as often as three times in a year.

This makes it difficult to maintain a home and family connections. In transfers, expenses are allowed only for the agent. Thus married men are at disadvantage.

City Births.

The following birth certificates were filed in the office of J. P. Welch, city secretary and registrar for the City of Corsicana, during the month of June:

Born to Mr. and Mrs.:

S. Brown Spurlock, East Fourteenth avenue, June 14, a daughter.

Earl E. Madden, 207 East Thirteenth avenue, June 13, a daughter.

Walton Acker Haskins, Wortham R. 4, June 15 a son.

Roy Clay, 816 West Tenth avenue, June 23, a daughter.

Ralph Richardson Brown, Corsicana, May 26, a son.

William A. Haden, Purdon 1, May 26, a daughter.

Frank Edward Dulaney, 207 North Twenty-Eighth St., May 25, a son.

C. M. Hopkins, Freer, May 29, a son.

William Thomas White, 1516 West Seventh avenue, June 2, a son.

Eugene Enoch Marshall, Emhouse, May 29, a son.

Roy Lewis Moore, Navarro, June 8, a daughter.

Eason Johnson, Corsicana, June 8, a son.

Lemuel Steele, Streetman, June 15, a son.

Items of Interest Around Fairfield

FAIRFIELD, July 15.—(Spl.)—The Presbyterian and Methodist revival is drawing large congregations at the morning and evening services. Rev. J. P. Kidd of Austin is doing the preaching with Mr. Esco conducting the song service and Mrs Tom Findley pianist. The meeting will close Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Short have accepted places as musical directors of the First Baptist church of Ada, Okla.

County Attorney Bowlen Bond was elected treasurer of the State Association of County and District Attorneys at the meeting in Houston last week.

The Texas Utilities Co. has just completed an addition to their building here to be used as a show room for electrical supplies. The entire building has been painted.

Cecil Epps was tried in district court here this week on a charge of car theft and received a three year's penitentiary sentence.

STOP THAT ITCHING.

UNITED STATES IN IMPORTANT ROLE OF PEACE NEGOTIATOR

SECRETARY HULL SAYS AMERICA EXPECTS NATIONS OBSERVE PEACE PACTS

By The Associated Press.

The United States took a central role in the Italo-Ethiopian uarrel today with a statement by Secretary Hull in support of the Briand-Kellogg pact outlawing war.

He mentioned neither Italy nor Ethiopia by name but said Washington expected nations to live up to the treaty.

Rome quarters hastened unofficially to assert Italy had not violated the treaty but was the victim of hostile Ethiopian acts. Military preparedness went forward at a rapid pace.

London speculated at to whether Hull hinted at the posibility the United States might join England in a determined effort to avert threatened war.

Reports in Istanbul said Emperor Haile Selassie had ordered crown jewels and precious religious relicts, reputedly including the tablet of the ten commandments and ark of the covenant, from Ethiopia's holy city of Axum, to a safer point. Axum s near the Italian colony of Eritrea.

Briand-Kellogg Pact Binding Hull Asserts

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(AP)—Secretary Hull's pronouncement that the Kellogg-Briand peace treaty is binding upon all nations signatory to it was regarded today as a new indication that the United States looks with concern at threatened hostilities between Italy and Ethiopia.

Those two nations are among the 63 countries which signed the pact of Paris. In a statement to the press last night, Hull re-affirmed this government's belief in that treaty and said:

"It is an agreement and solemn obligation that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts among nations of whatever nature or of whatever origin shall never be sought except by Pacific means."

Hull did not mention Italy and Ethiopia by name, but did say in effect that this government looks to nations to live up to their ligations under the treaty.

Hull's remarks were re[illegible] here as of special signifi[illegible] view of his recent co[illegible] with ambassadors of Ita[illegible] Britain and France. O[illegible] Emperor Haile Selassie [illegible] pia sent a note to this go[illegible] which was interpreted a[illegible] quest that the United S[illegible] voke the Kellogg-Briand [illegible] reply, Hull suggested t[illegible] League of Nations was a[illegible] tent agency to achieve a [illegible] solution.

Then last night he told report[illegible]ers:

"The United States and the other nations are interested in the maintenance of the (Kellogg-Briand) pact and the sanctity of the international commitments assumed thereby for the promotion and the maintenance of peace among the nations of the world."

British See Support In Hull Statement

LONDON, July 13.—(AP)—Some British circles professed today to see in Secretary of State Hull's declaration in support of the Briand-Kellogg pact a hint that the United States is willing to join Great Britain in a "front" to prevent an Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

These quarters viewed the American secretary's statement as the most important contribution yet to impress upon Premier Mussolini the gravity with which other nations view possible hostilities.

Because of the week end holiday no official comment was anticipated immediately.

Diplomatic circles regarded as encouraging the foreign reception to Sir Samuel Hoare's speech in the house of commons Thursday, feeling it had improved the atmosphere in Paris and Rome.

Because of this the foreign office appeared encouraged over the Ethiopian situation.

Bitter Attack on League.

As Joseph A. C. Avenol, secretary general of the League of Nations prepared to leave for Geneva after a busy week of talks on the subject with British ministers, the Daily Mail launched a bitter attack on the League.

The League, it said, had proved "just a booby trap." It claimed nothing for the cause of peace could be gained through Geneva and added: "Indeed, news that the British government had given in its resignation from the League would be received with general relief in this country and the dominions."

The question of shipment of British arms to Ethiopia is being studied by the government, it was learned. Although England has held up the granting of export licenses, final action has not been taken.

PENCREBAR, Cornwall, England, July 13.—(AP)—Sir Herbert Samuel, liberal opposition leader in the house of commons, warned Italy in a speech today that "if the primitive troops of Ethiopia are mown down by Italian machine guns there will be a spontaneous outburst of indignation and resentment among the British people."

MONEY DAMMED UP

"What is going on at present," says Dr. Charles O. Hardy of the Brookings Institute at Washington, "is to a large extent that people deposit money in banks because they are afraid to invest it; banks lend the money to the government, which spends it in public works.

"This is an unexpected back-door state of socialism. For the moment, the process is painless and largely costless, because the government is using financial resources that would otherwise be unemployed, to hire labor which would otherwise be unemployed. The social cost is therefore much less than the apparent financial cost. Unfortunately the value of the product is also very small, as the public works and other disbursements are largely disguised relief and show no sign of becoming less so."

The problem is to get the power of this dammed-up money turned from government relief into private work which would be more normal, profitable and wholesome. Private investment in constructive enterprise is increasing, but still far to go before it absorbs the workers now dependent on public employment.

The time, as economists agree, is ripe for a new forward surge of business. Perhaps the billions available are waiting, as much as anything, for Washington to complete the present batch of legislation. When Congress adjourns, finance, industry and trade will know better where they stand and what the set-up will be for the future. Whether big money likes the prospect or not, it cannot remain idle much longer.

BURNED COFFEE

The New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange reports that in the last four years the National Coffee Department, chief crop control agency of the Brazilian government, has destroyed 35,097,000 bags of coffee.

It would be interesting to figure out how many hundred million cups of coffee that would have made for people who cannot afford to buy it, and how many million days' labor have been thrown away.

Anything of this sort should be interpreted in terms of human life and comfort. "The important offices which coffee fulfills," says the New Standard Encyclopedia, "are, to allay the sensation of hunger; to produce an exhilarating and refreshing effect; and possibly to diminish the amount of wear and tear, or waste of the animal frame, which occurs more or less every minute."

Millions of Americans and Englishmen and Frenchmen and Italians would gladly have worked to make things to exchange for that coffee. But our awkward international systems are not adapted to arranging such matters.

Similar reasoning applies to our own destruction of, or failure to produce, things that millions here or elsewhere would be glad to have, and in return for which they could send us things we lack. Will civilized nations ever again be as sensible as primitive communities about such matters?

Congress, doomed to toil through a Washington summer, is atoning for most of its sins.

LOOKED AFTER

Ma's been busy as can be,
Always looking after me.
Guess she's never known a minute
That I wasn't reckoned in it.
Should she do it or she shouldn't
Would I like it or I wouldn't?
Seems that everything must be
Satisfactory to me.

Everything she's ever bought
Has been questioned with the thought:
'What I wonder, will he say
When I show him this today?"
Down through nine and twenty years
Nothing for herself appears.
Always busy as could be
Planning everything for me.

Lord, we'd had our little spats
Many and many a time, but that's
Human and when they were done
Smoother matters seemed to run.
Always quick we'd repent
Hasty words we never meant.
And I'm glad as I can be
Ma keeps looking after me.

FLIES INDICTED AGAIN

Flies spread disease. They are reared in filth and through life make frequent trips from filth to food. Germs causing dysentery and other intestinal disorders are transported on the hairy feet of flies. These insect pests are regarded as having played a leading part in causing food-borne epidemics of typhoid fever, stated Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

Flies multiply rapidly as soon as warm weather comes to stay. A female deposits more than a hundred eggs at a time in organic material such as manure or in an insanitary outdoor toilet. The life cycle from egg to larva (maggot), to pupa, to adult male or female fly requires but ten days. A week later, fifty females, under favorable conditions are ready to deposit a total of 50,000 eggs. During the summer season, nine generations of flies may result from one female that laid the first batch of eggs in the spring. It is estimated that if the offspring of a single overwintering female were to survive through nine generations, decendants in the fall would number over five and a half trillion.

Fortunately, modern sanitation and knowledge regarding the life history and habits of the house fly render possible complete control over the fly nuisance. Proper disposal of human and animal wastes in urban areas and on farms will prevent the breeding and multiplication of flies. Practical suggestions relative to methods of fly control may be obtained from the State Department of Health and U. S. Department of Agriculture.

SELF-RESPECT

In a letter containing a check received by the United States Treasury Department not long ago, the sender wrote:

"I was one of the work relief beneficiaries in 1933. I now return to you a check for $67, and will send you the balance, $40, in a few months. With thanks, etc."

Apparently the work done did not counteract the uncomfortable feeling of being on relief. One wonders whether the beneficiary is also repaying to his local community some of the expenditures it probably made for him before he got his work-relief job.

Self-respect is not so easily killed as some critics think. The dole is doubtless demoralizing over a long period, but the person with a normal amount of self-respect to begin with puts up a good fight to retain it.

$2.80 PER PERSON

Writes Paul Mallon from Washington: "The unofficial new tax program rates given out by Senator Harrison would praise $340,000,000 yearly. This would be $2.80 per person on a wealth-sharing basis"

The statement is worth thinking over carefully. It makes clear the fact that taxing big incomes a little more doesn't end all our money troubles. That per capita $2.80 wouldn't help any individual much if he received it. The wise unemployed person would very much rather have an income-producing job than his proportionate slice of the big incomes at the top of the system.

HEARING FOR MOONEY

Most Americans are probably glad to know that the State Supreme Court of California is going to give Tom Mooney a hearing on June 27. Reversing its former position on the case, the court has granted a writ of habeas corpus, and will require the state to show lawful reason for keeping Mooney in prison. As a result, Mooney's counsel may present a complete review of the case, with emphasis on the "perjured testimony" on which Mooney's friends have insisted for years that he was convicted.

Such action is desirable not merely for the sake of the prisoner, if his claims are just, but for the sake of the American judicial system. It may be, as Mooney's opponents have always contended, that he is, or was, an undesirable citizen and a dangerous man to have at large, But the case has reached a stage where it is not so much Mooney himself as the judicial system that is on trial.

There is no legal provision in the Constitution for keeping an American citizen imprisoned "on general principles." The country has just been having some lessons lately on constitutionality. If the Constitution protects citizens from usurpation of authority by the executive branch of government, in state or nation, it likewise protects them from judicial usurpation. If Mooney can be proved to have been convicted on perjured testimony, his sentence is no more valid than was the NRA law.

AMNESTY IN MEXICO

The milder policies hoped for when President Cardenas of Mexico broke with "Strong Man" Calles last month begin to appear. The government has proclaimed amnesty to citizens participating in Mexican rebellions during the last 20 years.

This amnesty seems to apply not merely to political and military offenders, but to civilians and churchmen. All charges of sedition against revolutionary fugitives now in exile are quashed.

Americans are especially glad to learn of the new liberality shown by the present Mexican administration toward the church. The persecution of Catholics and drastic limitation of church activites have been a blot on recent Mexican policy that was hard for Americans to understand. How far the Cardenas government will go in extension of religious freedom is not clear, but it is good to know that there will be improvement.

This has been one of the last obstacles to full and frank friendship between Mexico and the United tates. Our government has felt obliged to avoid interfering in such a controversy, but our people would be glad to see as much religious liberty in Mexico as we have ourselves.

SUMMER FESTIVALS AT HOME

Americans go abroad to attend summer festivals in Old World cities—festivals of music or dancing or drama. New York City has recently got out a "calendar" telling of its own "First Annual Summer Festival," which began with a fine symphony concert given outdoors at the stadium.

A municipal art committee, appointed by the mayor, and the Adult Education Council have co-operated in planning these special summer activities. All the entertainments are open to summer tourists, to the thousands of students who attend summer school in the city, and to New Yorkers themselves, including residents of the whole metropolitan area.

Music, art, drama and dance are the arts represented in the festival. The purpose is to make "fullest possible use of existing institutions and efforts, and to keep the public acquainted with the rich and varied offerings."

This is an interesting movement for the nation's largest city, usually seeking fame for its night life, its tall buildings and its Coney Island type of amusement. New York has a rich cultural life, too, and it is a fine thing that this side of its character is now being emphasized.

New York's summer festival should serve to call attention also to similar movements in many parts of the country. Americans have cause for much satisfaction in the steady development of apreciation for and participation in the arts. We have begun to catch up artistically and intellectually with our industrial and mechanical skills.

Another thing this country needs is a summer capital in the Adirondacks or the Rockies. How about that for a work relief project?

When they get currencies stabilized, all that will remain is to bring incomes back to boom levels and stabilize them.

ONLY ONE VACANCY REMAINS IN FROST SCHOOLS FACULTY

FROST, July 12.—(Spl.)—With the exception of the selection of a combination music and expression teacher, which vacancy is yet to be filled, the teaching force of the Frost school has been completed for the school year 1935-1936.

Miss Lucile Watson of Mart has been elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss McMurty. Miss Watson has studied art in thge colleges and universities of Texas and has done special work in this field in New York City. She is also qualified to help with commercial work, choral singing, general extra-curricular activities. She has had two years of experience.

Miss Margaret Horne will teach Latin and English. She holds a B. A. degree and is doing work on her Master's degree. She has had five years of experience.

Following is the list of teachers of the Frost High school for the 1935-1936 school year.

W. V. Harrison, superintendent, history, civics and economics; Chas. McMichen, principal, commercial arithmetic, commerical geography, commerical law, eighth and ninth grade English.

Mattie Fuller, seventh grade English and math. and science subjects.

Margaret Horne, English and Latin.

Arnold Armstrong, seventh grade arithmetic and math., and science subjects.

Robin Stroop, reading and English in fourth, fifth and sixth grades; sixth grade home room.

Merlin Lee Mitcham, arithmetic and geography in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades; fifth grade home room.

Lucile Watson, art, writing and spelling and general extra-curricular activities; fourth grade home room.

Jewel Webb, third grade.

Miriam Smith, second grade and public school music in the first three grades.

Lizzie Rae Osborne, first grade.

W. V. Harrison is beginning his fourteenth year as superintendent the local school. He is now engaged in completing his teaching force, getting transfers, collecting outstanding bills due the Frost school and getting ready for next year's work.

For the past nine years the Frost school has won the all-around Class B Navarro County U. I. L. championship. For the past several years Frost has won both boys and girls county championship in debate and for several years has taken strong debate teams to the state meet.

ADDITIONAL FUNDS NEEDED IN DAWSON WATERWORKS PLANS

The city officials have been advised that the government requires an additional $14,000 before they will approve Dawson's waterworks project. Attorney Ballard George and Engineer McClendon met with the council Monday night and explained that another election will be necessary before further progress can be made on the project, and the council decided to call an election at the earliest possible time. The attorney and engineer are of the opinion that as quickly as the additional amount is voted, developments will be made rapidly and actual construction started shortly afterwards.

Since the government depends solely on the waterworks system paying itself out to get the money invested back, with no tax whatever on the people, it is necessary that they construct a tank and dam that will give service until it pays for itself. It was stated Tuesday night that a number of like projects had run short of funds, and the additional amount is asked of the Dawson project in order that any shortage may be avoided.—The Dawson Herald.

Superintendent of Five Estes Stores Three Texas Cities

CARL DAVIS

B. R. Estes announced Friday the employment of Carl Davis, recently of Mexia, as superintendent of the five Estes Self-Serving grocery stores in Corsicana, Teague and Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. Davis have taken up their residence in Corsicana, and have rented the home of Mrs. Henry Gentry, at 1917 West Collin street.

Mr. Davis has been connected with the grocery business for a number of years, and his experience gives him excellent qualifications for his connection with the Estes stores.

He was engaged in the grocery business in Idaho a number of years ago, and was recently supervisor for the Table Supply Stores, in Florida, which chain had over 50 stores. He was also a district supervisor for the Piggly Wiggly stores in Florida. While in Mexia Mr. Davis was an active worker in the Mexia Chamber of Commerce and in the Mexia Rotary club. Mr. and Mrs. Davis are members of the Christian church, and he was superintendent of the Christian Sunday school in Mexia for eight years.

Mr. Davis said Friday morning that the Estes stores have maintained a high type of grocery, produce and meat service during the depression and, have "weathered the storm," and that the management is working constantly to improve this service.

HOUSE COMMITTEE APPROVED BILL TO BAR GOLD SUITS

WASHINGTON, July 12.—(AP)—The house banking committee today approved an administration bill to bar suits against the government to collect alleged damages arising out of devaluation of the dollar.

Inflation possibilities of this legislation, high on the administration "must" list simultaneously were being discussed at the senate banking committee.

Treasury experts denied that such a possibility, mentioned by committee members, existed.

Senator McAdoo (D-Cal), a former treasury secretary, raised the question when John G. Harlan, assistant general counsel of the treasury said there were about $10,000,00,000 of outstanding gold clause obligations affected by a resolution provision which would allow holders of such obligaions to exchange them for casn.

McAdoo suggested the effect was to permit the issuance of $10,000,000,000 of treasury notes or "printing press money."

Harlan contended that the resolution did not authorize the issuance of any new currency. He said the treasury would obtain the money by the issuance of new bonds, as it has obtained refunding money in the past.

Senator Maloney (D-Conn) suggested, however, that cancellation of the right to sue for damages might create a "buyers strike" in which it would be impossible to float new bonds.

SIX WHITE BOYS HELD ON CHARGES BURGLARY, THEFT

Six white boys were arrested late Sunday afternoon by City Officers Bruce Nutt and Marion Griffin, and after investigation transferred to county authorities on burglary and theft charges. Officers reported that the boys had entered the warehouse of K. Wolens Department stores in the 300 block on North Beaton street from a window on the roof and taken off between $75 and $100 in merchandise, including hats, shoes and underwear. All of it was recovered.

Officers discovered the burglary when one of the youths was seen with some of the loot and questioned intensively. Within a short time the roundup was complete. City officers reported that the boys had been handled by the police department several times.

A white man was also held in the city jail after he is reported to have attempted to take some clothing from a man's automobile while parked near the carnival grounds. The merchandise was recovered.

GOWAN

a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church here prior to the merger with the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. several years ago and since that time she had been a member of the Third Avenue Presbyterian church.

Surviving are one brother, George W. Powell, San Antonio, and numerous nephews asd nieces, among the latter being Sidney Story, from whose home the burial took place. She was the daughter of Henry W. and L. M. Powell, pioneer residents of Navarro county and one of a large family of children, all of whom have preceded her to the grave with the exception of the brother in San Antonio.

The Sutherland-McCammon Funeral Home had charge of the services.

Mrs. Gowan was of the fast-disappearing type of old Southern women who put their Master's work above all else and ministered to their family and neighbors as admonished in the scriptures. She was up until a short time before her death a constant and interested reader of the Bible, which was her mainstay during her years of feebleness that made her practically a shut-in. Before her health failed she could always be found at the services of her church in the work of which she took a keen interest and delight.

The following nephews and nieces were here for attendance upon the funeral services: Mr. and Mrs. James B. Story, Dallas; David E. Story, Dallas; Mrs. Russell Harvey and son, George Harvey, Dallas; Miss Laura Marie Story, Dallas; Mrs. Curtis Gibbs and children of McKinney.

Elliott and his brother James, secretary of the national organization, led a losing campaign for endorsement of new deal policies. A compromise between the Roosevelt section and the states' rights warriors was effected in a resolution opposing any amendment which would "destroy the constitution."

The Overton group was aroused particularly by a brief clash between Elliott Roosevelt and Gov. James V. Allred, at the conclusion of which Roosevelt said the youthful executive, ardent devotee of states' rights, was getting "hot under the collar about something he did not know about."

Popular Corsicana Girl Weds Richland Man Sunday Morning

The marriage of Miss Mattie Lou Huffman, daughter of Mrs. A. L. Huffman and the late Mr. Huffman, to Walter Lewis Garland of Richland, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Garland, was very quietly solemnized Sunday morning, July 14, at 9 o'clock at the home of the pastor of the First Methodist church, the Rev. T. Edgar Neal, with Dr. Neal reading the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony in the presence of members of the two families.

The bride selected an off-gray imported linen lace with which she wore all navy accessories, and a shoulder corsage of orchids and valley lilies.

After a two weeks' wedding trip spent in Hot Springs, Ark., St. Louis and Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Garland will be at home in Corsicana at 713 West Seventh avenue, temporarily with the bride's mother and sisters.

Mrs. Garland is business representative of the local Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., and will continue her duties in this capacity.

Mr. Garland is assistant superintendent of the Lone Star Gas Co. of Richland.

Out of town relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mize of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. J. W Garland and son, Joe Jean, of Richland.

Little Mexia Girl Celebrated Second Birthday on Friday

MEXIA, Texas, July 15.—Little Miss Betty Joe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Horn of Mexia celebrated her 2nd birthday with a party here Friday. A number of Betty Jo's friends attended the party, bringing for her many beautiful little gifts, which were very much adored by the little two-year old baby. Those who attended the party were, Christine and Kenneth Reeves, Glenn and Frederick Earl Nelson, Martha and Virginia Foster, Mary Lou and Ivey Joe Land, Adel Lucas and Bobby Jo Kueck, all of Mexia and Joy Lestine, Harold and Jack Horn of Navarro.

Beside these little playmates were a number of "grown-up" friends who attended the party, thus including her "mama Horn" of Navarro and other relatives.

The party lasted from two until four, during which games were played and pictures were taken of Betty Jo and her little host of friends. Later in the afternoon ice cream and cookies were served, after which the honoree was given the privilege of blowing out her two candles and cutting her own cake—the result not being very artistic. The party adjourned at four, everyone seemingly to have had a very enjoyable afternoon, and wishing for Betty Jo that she might not meet with as many "paddlings" her 3rd year as she did in the previous one.

SAN ANGELO JAIL CONDEMNED FOR USE AS FEDERAL PRISON

NUMBER OF IRREGULARITIES REPORTED BY INSPECTOR FOR GOVERNMENT

FORT WORTH, July 15.—(AP)—The Tom Green county jail at San Angelo has been condemned as a federal jail, and after July 18 will not be used for housing federal prisoners, it was learned here today.

The announcement came in a letter from Sanford Bates, director of the U. S. Bureau of Prisons, to U. S. Marshal J. R. Wright.

Bates wrote that Roy J. Casey, inspector for the bureau, had found conditions in the Tom Green county jail very unsatisfactory.

"He found a kangaroo court in full operation, with the approval of the jailer who is the wife of a deputy sheriff," wrote Bates. "The court rules included whipping of prisoners for failure to pay fines, or refusing to beg fines from visitors."

"It has been the practice of the jailer to permit prisoners to prepare food in their cells. As a result, food containers, cans, utensils, and other trash are strewn about the place."

"Trusties are allowed to come and go at will and are permitted to run errands.

"Visitors go directly to the cell blocks.

"The jailer admitted that under the present system it would be possible for drugs to be smuggled into the jail. The only course is to condemn the jail.

"You are to cross it off the list of approved jails."

Casey recommended that the Taylor county jail at Abilene be used although "it is a little below the average we usually accep."

ABANDONED

those prepared by the board.

Earlier, when the senate demanded information on how the fund was to be divided, the administration based its classification entirely on the board's program, this official added.

No Plans of Own.

He said that although the public works administration had collaborated in drawing up the program it had no plans of its own. Neither, he said, had Harry L. Hopkins' relief administration because neither Hopkins nor Ickes knew until two weeks after the works relief act was signed which would be in charge.

After Hopkins was given the principal role, it was said, he found that two difficulties would prevent carrying out the National Resources Board program:

1. Much of the work it proposed, in particular for rivers and harbors, erosion control, and highway construction, would be in sparsely settled areas where the relief load is light. It also would require several years to complete. This would leave little for projects in large cities where the destitute are concentrated, or for the 750,000 or more white collar workers.

Much Planned For Materials.

2. The resources board program called for a large expenditure on materials—how much was never disclosed but certainly more than the $1,500,000,000 to be spent on materials under the revised program.

As a result, it was said, a halt was called after Mr. Roosevelt had allotted about $1,000,000,000. It was decided that the works progress administration would spend about $2,000,000,000 on projects calling for comparatively small expenses for materials.

Emphasizing the value of rivers and harbors improvements, the resources board quoted an estimate by army engineers that $8,000,000,000 could be spent profitably on such work. Mr. Roosevelt has allotted $97,000,000—meaning that activity in this line will be considerably less than at any time in recent years. Hopkins is reported to have advised against any further extensive projects because of their high material cost.

CHINA FLOOD

Other thousands of workers began building a secondary defense behind the weakened scaction of the dike.

More Rains Renew Rise.

Reports from Chungking, a city in Szechwan province, said additional rains there caused the river to rise three feet, foreboding additional torrents for Hankow.

The American Passionist Fathers here expressed concern for the safety of their mission at Shenchow, in flood-besieged Hunan province. No word has been received from there for two weeks.

Nanking advices said the collapse of 600 feet of the great Marwa dyke exposed another great area of Central China to inundation.

The dike, stretching for 65 miles along the river, fronts of Anhwei, Kiangsi and Tupeh provinces, was the main bulwark of the provinces against the assault of the Yangtze.

Government officials reported that the Yellow river which has davastated the surrounding territory here, has subsided slightly. Hankow, 600 miles from the sea, lies on the south side of the Yangtze river at its junction with the Ran river, which runs alongside the nearby city of Hanyang.

PLANE CRASH

The dead, trapped behind a jammed door forward in the cabin, besides the two English passengers named Newman and Hodson, were four chewmen—Pilot Silverstein, Wireless Operator Neibor and Mechanics Brom and Van Dyk.

"The plane became a raging inferno a few seconds after the crash," said one woman survivor, a Mrs. Claasen.

I first noted something wrong as the plane tried to gain altitude from the take-off. One engine began to sputter and backfire. I felt my heart in my throat as the ship began to wobble. It was all over in a flash.

Three survivors were injured. No Americans were aboard.

Proposed Amendments To Texas Constitution Presented Instructively

(Editor's Note: Texas voters will be called upon the vote on August 24 on seven proposed amendments to the Constitution of Texas. A brief and impartial summary of each amendment as given by Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann will be presented under this heading, one amendment being given each day until the list is completed. Nothing as to the merits of the amendments are included herein, rather their contents are explained.)

No. 1 Old Age Pensions.

The first proposition to be found on the ballot in the August 24th special election on Constitutional Amendments is the so-called old-age pension amendment. This year, for the first time, the amendments will be numbered, according to Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann.

The old age pension amendment proposes to give the legislature the authority to pay these pensions to persons over the age of 65, who are not habitual drunkards nor habitual criminals, nor inmates of any state supported institution. Those who are eligible must have lived in Texas at least five years, during the nine immediately preceding application and in the state continuously for one year.

All other restrictions and limitations would have to be set up by the legislature.

The amendment authorizes the legislature to accept money from the federal government for the same purpose. It is presumed that Federal funds would match state funds. The maximum amount to be paid by the state would be $15 per person per month. It is presumed that the Federal government would match state funds. The total pension per person per month in this case it is presumed would be $30. The amounts might be smaller, however; but not larger.

It is estimated that the cost of this pension to the state would run between forty and fifty million dollars annually. No provision is made for the income. It would be up to the legislature to determine where the money would come from. The legislature would have to enact such laws as it deemed proper to utilize the right granted by the amendment. The legislature might do this at once, or some time later—or for that matter not at all. The amendment is permissive and not mandatory, though few doubt that some form of old age pensions would be enacted if the amendment is adopted in August.

Farm Bureau and other organizations objected to it.

In vain did Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) seek to retain control over package bees and queen bees. He declared the bee oprators of several states were now working under a code and sought to continue it under AAA authority.

He protested at any move to reject it "because of facetious remarks."

Senator Glass (D-Va.), who last week made the senate laugh with his story of how the secretary of agriculture was "trying to control the activities of my queen bee," declared his remarks were "not altogether facetious."

He said it was a "ridiculous proposition" to try to make bees a primary commodity and that would make the whole bill "ridiculous."

Amid a chorus of laughter the bees were stricken out of the bill.

Smith expressed hope of passing the measure by tomorrow night.

about 860,000 miles out into space. The moon will enter this cone at a point about 226,000 miles out.

It will take the moon 57 minutes to pass completely into this black shadow cone. From the earth this will be seen as the earth's shadow, a round disc far bigger than the moon, moving across the lunar face until the moon is completely engulfed.

At 10:09 p. m. Central Standard time, teh shadow will completely cover the moon. It will remain covered for an hour and 41 minutes, the time necessary to pass through the black cone.

The moon may, or may not, be completely invisible during the hour and 41 minutes. Sometimes it is faintly seen as a dark, copper colored disc, reflecting red rays of the sun which bend around the edges of the earth so far that they fall on the darkened moon.

It it happens to be cloudy along much of the edge, the rays filtering around are insufficient and the coppery ghost does not appear.

At 11:50 p. m., Central Standard time, the moon begins to creep out from the shadow, and in an hour is free again.

WOMAN CONVICTED IN KIDNAPING BOY IS FACING LIFE

MOTIONS FOR ARREST OF JUDGMENT AND NEW TRIAL BE ARGUED WEDNESDAY

TACOMA, Wash., July 15.—(AP)—Counsel for Margaret Waley, convicted of the Weyerhaeuser kidnaping, planned new moves to keep her out of prison today, while authorities maintained silence on reports they were closing in on William Dainard, accused "brains" of the $200,000 abduction plot.

Motions for an arrest of judgment as well as for a new trial will be argued before Federal Judge E. E. Cushman Wednesday when Mrs. Waley appears for sentence.

She was convicted Saturday of "Lindbergh law" charges that she kidnaped nine-year-old George Weyerhaeuser and conspired to kidnap him.

Her husband, Harmon M. Waley, who pleaded guilty and received a 45-year sentence was back at McNeil Island federal prison today, having failed to testify for his wife at her trial.

Mrs. Waley, held here in the city jail, faces a life sentence on her conviction. The law provides no minimum penalty and Judge Cushman has not indicated what term he will give the 19-year-old girl.

Mrs. Waley, who tried three times to plead guilty but was refused such permission by the court, said in a statement that she was "satisfied with the verdict."

LATTIMORE

sociate Justice Marvin H. Brown.

The term will expire on Jan. 1, 1937, and Judge Martin must seek re-election in the summer of 1935.

Lattimore mailed his resignation from Houston. He declared that the judiciary of Texas is among the poorest paid in the union, and charged this fact is a "blot on the name of the greatest state."

He explained that his 12 years on the bench had been a happy one, that he loved the work but felt he owed a duty to his family—a duty he had been compelled to neglect in the service of Texas.

In conclusion he expressed the hope that his statement would "find lodgment with those to whom citizenship is a responsibility and will call them to the defense of those who hold great power and yet, strangely enough, can not defend themselves—the judiciary of Texas."

Large Tarantula Exhibited Here

Henry Zube brought a tarantula to the Daily Sun office Saturday afternoon that he had caught on the pavement on Highway 75 about three miles south of Corsicana. The tarantula was an exceptionally large one. Its legs measured two inches and when it stood up to its full height it was a dangerous looking insect, if that is what tarantulas are.

A LIGHT COSMETIC

SUMMER-TIME CREAM

Miss Forbes today tells you how to make what the shops call a liquefying cream—something light in texture and excellent for cleansing the skin.

E. K. Forbes

If you want to make for yourself a light cream to use as cleanser for the summer months, something with body to it, but so light it will not clog nor irritate the most delicate skin try this formula. As you see, there is nothing to it. And you can vary the cream, making it just a cleanser, or a combined cleanser and a massage cream.

Get one ounce of spermaceti and eight ounces of the fine mineral oil. Put both into a pan, a white enamel saucepan is nicest to use, set inside a larger pan of boiling hot water, and let the spermaceti melt into the oil. When quite melted, take the pan from the heat, and stir the now cooling oil until spermaceti and oil are well blended. You do not beat as you would with a regular cream, for in that case you have to combine oil and water into an emulsion. This is merely stirring two liquids together, enough so that one, which is solid when cool, will not go into little lumps.

Once stirred, just pour off into a couple of jars and there you are with a semi-liquid cream, all ready to use. It can be perfumed though I do not see why it should be. Cream these days is something we use for a scientific cleansing ,it is a practical affair, and perfume seems out of place. But if you like a scent, add ten drops of any perfumed oil you fancy. Rose garanium is pungent and attractive.

To make this nourishing as well as cleansing, use almond oil instead of mineral. It costs a bit more, but it is a fine oil, and the skin will take up some of it, where as the mineral oil just cleanses by softening the dirt. At that, the cream costs you a lot lett than you could buy it in the shops. Almond oil is used ni only the best, often the most expensive of creams—though you can buy it for less than a quarter an ounce.

Those in which a stamped, addressed envelope is included are replied to and sent out in the mail; and those without, the mailing envelope must be answered through the column in the order of the dates in which they are received. Possibly you may have missed the issue of the paper when your reply appeared. You did not state what you wished to know about superfluous hair, but if yo are bothered with it, and can have it cared for by a reliable person, do so. This means the electric needle for each separate hair, and these will be only the coarse and conspicuous ones. Forget the finer hair or bleach it with peroxide. Use the tweezers for the coarse hairs if you cannot get the other treatment.

Farm Hand Pays For Murder With Life In Chair

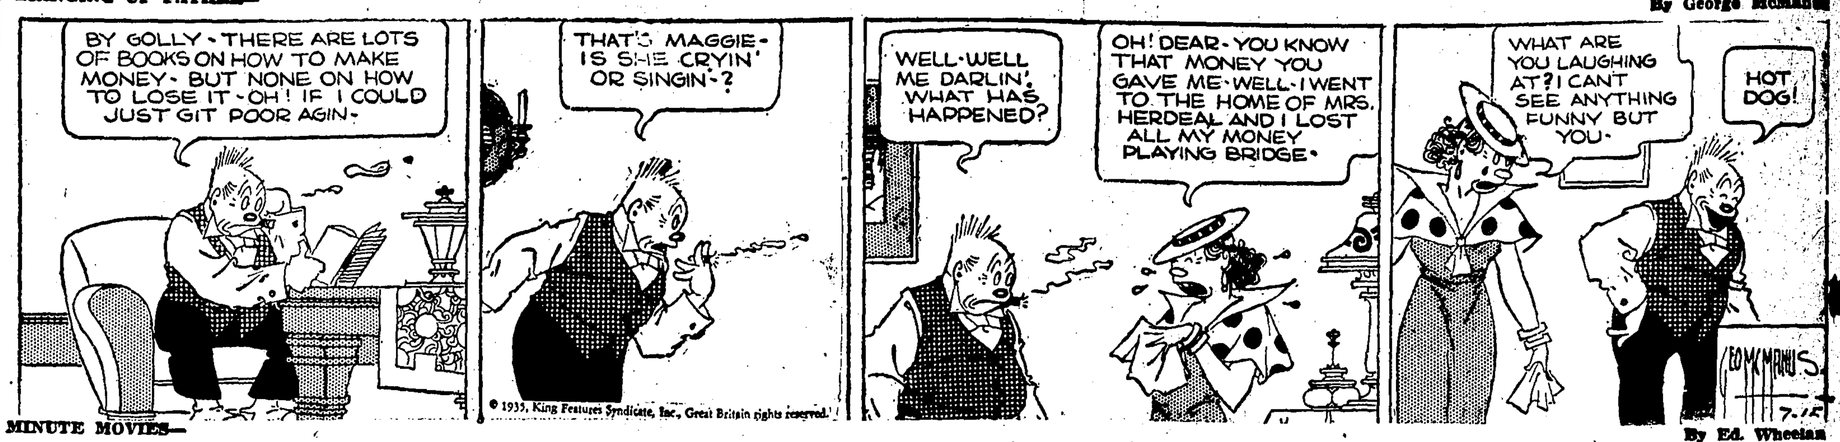

HUNTSVILLE, July 12.—(AP)—Lewis Cernoch, Williamson county farm hand, paid with his life in the state's electric chair early today for murdering City Marshal H. J. Lindsey of Granger in Januarry, 1934.

Lindsey and Constable Sam Moore, also of Granger, were shot to death after they had arrested Cernoch on a minor charge. Cernoch was convicted of killing Lindsey but was not tried for the slaying of Moore, although he was charged in that case.

There was some local selling of later months but offerings were absorbed in a narrow range and the market was steady at the end of the first hour with prices showing net gains of about 2 to 6 points. Oct. contracts, after easing off from 11.68 to 11.66, rallied to 11.71. The early Liverpool cables reported a dull market.

Selling tapers off later but there was little demand. Trading at mid-day was quiet with Oct. selling around 11.72 with the general list showing net advances of about 3 to 7 points.

New Orleans Cotton Higher.
Cotton Holds Early Gains

NEW ORLEANS, July 15.—(AP)—With the volume of business at abnormally low levels, cotton futures held their early gains of 6 to 9 points as trading went into the final hour.

July held at 12 cents even, up to 9 points from its previous close and Oct. 14 11.67 and Dec. at 11.64 made proportionate advances.

Most traders were attending the all-South cotton conference being held here today and the ring was deserted during most of the dealings.

Advices were bearish and the weather continued to be ideal with hot and dry readings coming from the western area of the belt, while the east was getting needed rains.

Market commentators in their letters today wwere almost unanimous in expressing the opinion that little activity would impent until the loan announcement had been made.

Dealings were narrow in the final hour of trading and while the market managed to finish the day 1 to 6 points higher the advance was uninspiring and the volume of business was small.

NEW ORLEANS, July 15.—(AP)—First call prices here were 4 to 10 points higher today as the cotton market began its new week.

There was little in the news to explain the firm opening, but light buying entered the market and brought about small advances from the previous close.

July was 6 points higher at 11.97, Oct. was up a similar amount at 11.65, while Jan. jumped 50 cents a bale to 11.65.

Liverpool reported that favorable weather was acting in the interests of the bears, but on the other hand uncertainty over the loan and the tightness of contracts were reasing offerings.

Dull and featureless price movements caracterized the morning's dealings. On occasional purchases July worked up another 3 points to 12.00 and October advanced to 11.68, but little interest was shown in the market as a whole.

A report that cotton purchases would be included in Russia's $30,000,000 orders from this country was passed by without attracting any market attention.

A brigh spot was furnished by advices from cloth markets that business during the past week was more active than in previous periods.

The market was a trading affair during the morning, with a very thin range existing.

STATE BEARING MAJOR BURDEN OF RURAL EDUCATION

AUSTIN, July 15.—(AP)—The greater part of the burden of financing rural schools is being borne by the state, George H. Simpson state auditor, reported today in a summary of an adult of the rural aid division of the state department of education.

Schools receiving state aid contributed an average of 26.43 per cent of total expenditures while 73.57 per cent was supplied by the state. Ten per cent of the counties did not receive rural aid.

The report criticized payment from the rural air fund of certain traveling expenses of inspectors whose salaries are paid from the main office appropriation and unauthorized employment of extra stenographers.

Wheat Prices Advance.

CHICAGO, July 15.—(AP)—Cautiously sympathizing with extreme jumps or respectively 5 and 4 cents a bushel at Kansas City and Minneapolis, wheat prices in Chicago today scored gains of barely over 3 cents.

Disappointing harvest yields were the accepted Chicago version of Kansas City wheat market strength, and black rust reports were held to largely to explain the action of wheat prices at Minneapolis. Relative dragginess of the Chicago wheat market was apparently related to prospective increased receipts of new wheat in areas adjacent to Chicago.

Wheat closed nervous, 1 7-8@2 5-8 above aturday's finish, Sept. 82 3-4 7-8, corn 3-4@1 3-4 up, Sept. 75 1-2 5-8, oats 5-8@1 cent advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10 cents.

Wheat Jumps Limit.

KANSAS CITY, July 15.—(AP)—July wheat jumped the full 5-cents limit allowed for a day soon after trading began in Kansas City this morning, reaching 88 1-8 cents. Saturday's close was 83 1-8.

Harold A. Merrill, president of the Kansas City board of trade, attributed the sudden price rise to rust reports, to better demand for cash wheat and disappointing yield reports from Nebraska.

NINE CONGRESSMEN WANT TO TESTIFY IN HOUSE LOBBY PROBE

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—Nine house members today asked the house rules committee to hear them in its investigation of the utilities lobby.

All wanted to testify on the assertion by Representative Brewster R-Mt.) that Thomas Corcoran, RFC attorney, told Brewster work on the Passamaquody project in Maine would be stopped unless Brewster voted for abolition of "unnecessary" utilities holding companies. Corcoran has denied he said that.

The nine, Representative Rankin (D-Miss.) said, were present at a conference just before the house voted on the utilities bill. They were, he added: Representatives Knut Hill (D-Wash.), McFarlane, (D-Tex.), Maverick (D-Texas), Marcantonio (R-NY), Schneider (P-Wis.), Moran (D-Me.), Sauthoff (P-Wis.), Zioncheck (D-Wash.) and himself.

Confidence was expressed that the fire raging below, which was said to be already "limited," could be extinguished in time to save the entombed workers from suffocation.

Nearby mines were asked to send help to the Adolf von Hansemann shaft, where the disaster occurred, and rescuers were working frantically to control the fire.

Correction.

In cases filed in the county clerk's office in Saturday's paper, a suit styled C. J. Maner, receiver of the First National Bank in Blooming Grove vs. Lloyd Hill, et al, appeared when the defendants should have read: "Lloyd Young, et al." The correction is gladly made.

STEELS, RAILS AND EQUIPMENT FAVORED IN STOCK MARKET

STEADY TO FIRM UNDERTONE IN EVIDENCE FROM START

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP)—Heavy industry issues, backward for some time, came to the front in today's stock market. Quiet buying lifted the steels, rails and equipments substantially. The close was firm. Transfers approximated 900,000 shares.

By VICTOR EUBANK
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP)—The stock market today showed a liking for steels, rails, equipments and selected specialites.

Although the list moved quietly, and the utilities, motors and a number of other so-called leaders were somewhat neglected, a steady to firm undertone was in evidence from the start.

A rally in wheat at Chicago was seenn as a constructive factor but the news, generally, was rather colorless market-wise. Secondary loans provided what little action there was in the bond division. Foreign exchanges were a shade higher.

Scattered shares pushed into new high ground for the year. American Locomotive preferred got up more than 3 points and others, fractionally to a point or so higher, included American Locomotive common, Pullman, Westinghouse, Santa Fe, Souhtern Pacific, N. Y. Central, Great Northern preferred, U. S. Steel common and preferred, Bethlehem, Republic steel, Acme Steel, American Rolling Mill, Kelsey-Hayes, Fox, Bullard Co., Case and Johns-Manville.

Commission houses noted that investment participation was still the main bulwark of stocks although it was not preceeding at the same pace witnessed some weeks ago. There was no suggestion any undue amount of speculative long interest existed.

In diagnosing the market, as a whole, analysts generally agreed that it has been demonstrating good absorptive powers, a string technical position, freedom from important liquidation and an impressive confdence n the longer-range view.

Earnings statements were being studied closely. A slight drop in the net of the American Telephone Co., was not unexpected. The company, for six months ended June 30, showed $3.16 a common share against $3.31 in the corresponding 1934 period.

Curb Irregular.

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP)—Advances in a few specialties featured an otherwise rather irregular performance of the curb market today. Turnover was moderate.

Ferro Enamel at 21 1-2, Aluminum Co. of America at 61 1-2, and Technicolor at 19 1-2, each got ahead more than a point, while lesser gains were registered by Parker Rust Proof at 62 1-2 and International Petroleum at 35 1-4.

Among issues slipping back fractions to a point or a little more from the previous close were American Gas and Electric at 28 3-4, Great Northern Paper at 21, Creole at 16 5-8 and Pittsburgh Plate Glass at 71.

WIFE OF SPANISH NAVAL ATTACHE DIES NEW YORK HOSPITAL

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP)—A woman who said she was the wife of Frederico Monreal Pilon naval attache of the Spanish embassy at Washington, died in Bellevue hospital today of poisoning and a slashed artery in her right wrist.

Shortly before midnight Sunday, the officers said, she swallowed poison in a midtown hotel.

Police said they could learn no motiye for the woman's act.

A futile attempt to save her life was made by Harold Tarnac, night manager of the hotel, whom she had asked to send a physician to her room.

He said he found her seated on the edge of her bed bleeding from a razor blade wound.

Revived in first aid treatment, the woman told of swallowing the poison. Questioned by Detective Charles Dugan, she said she left Washington July 8, intending to go to Battle Creek, Mich., for rest cure and reducing treatments. She was quoted as saying her husband is in Russia.

The woman had registered at the hotel July 9, giving what police said was her maiden name, Caroline Harriss.

Couple Estranged.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—Officials at the Spanish embassy said today the woman who died in a New York City hospital this morning of poisoning and a slashed wrist artery was the estranged wife of Federico Monreal Pilon until a year ago naval attache here.

They said the Monreal Pilons were married here three years ago and she was formerly "a Mrs. Harriss." They separated two years ago, officials said, and he later returned to active duty with the Spanish navy.

The woman gave her Washington address as the present home of Secretary Dern. Residents there said the home was occupied by someone from the Spanish embassy two years ago.

SCATTERED CASES TYPHOID FEVER IN CORSICANA DISTRICT

CITY HEALTH OFFICER ADVISES PRECAUTION BE TAKEN; CITY WATER PURE

A few scattered cases of typhoid have been unofficially reported and while the city health officer, Dr W. T. Shell, Jr, said he had received no formal notification of the presence of the disease, use of some care on the part of the citizenry was recommended.

Immunization against the typhoid germs by use of standard innoculations was recommended generally as an effective control measure, and those who have not had the serum in the past three years should renew their immunization if their physician advises.

Dr. Shell reported that late tests of the city water by Mr. McAfee and other agencies showed the water entirely free of contamination. People using water from other sources than the municipal supply, should boil their water before using if there is known to be a case of typhoid in their vicitity.

Care should also be used in the securing of milk, and only that from a regularly inspected and approved source used. Fresh vegetables should be carefully and thoroughly washed, and special care should be used by the persons preparing food in order to eliminate any possible contamination

Houses should be examined to see that all screens are in good condition and capable of keeping out flies and mosquitoes. Flies are carriers of typhoid while the mosquitoes carry malaria, according to the health authorities.

City health officials said there was nothing to occasion any alarm in the presence of a few cases of typhoid but that proper care on the part of the citizenry would prevent any possible spread.

While typhoid fever is classed as semi-quarantinable disease, the health officer urged other members of a victim's household to exercise proper care and precautions to prevent carrying the germs.

R. L. CAMPBELL, JR. WAS NAMED NAVARRO COUNTY ENGINEER

R. L. Campbell, Jr., native of Navarro county, formerly connected with the local Texas highway department engineering corps Monday was elected as Navarro county engineer at a salary of $175 per month by the commissioners court.

The action in procuring a county engineer was taken due to the new set-up and requirements in the projects of the relief work, C. E. McWilliams, county judge, stated, Monday afternoon.

Blueprints, plans and specifications, etc., are required by the government before any projects are accepted and approved.

The services of Campbell will be available for any relief projects for any community of the county. It is not contemplated that Campbell will serve the city of Corsicana as this municipality has an engineering department.

Campbell will begin his duties Tuesday and will office at the courthouse. The location of his headquarters at the courthouse had not been determined Monday afternoon.

There has been considerable agitation and discussion relative to a series of road projects, utilizing relief labor, in various sections of the county, but no definite steps toward the consummation of the proposals have been taken.

PLEADS INNOCENT TO CHARGE MURDER OF RIVAL IN LOVE

TULSA, Okla., July 15.—(AP)—Garland Creekmore, 27, today pleaded innocent to murdering his love rival, Elmer Lemon, Pampa, Texas, at Broken Arrow a week ago.

Creekmore, who surrendered yesterday after being a fugitive since the time of the shooting, said nothing, permitting his attorney to do all the talking.

The farmer was denied bond and returned to jail. His preliminary hearing was set for next Monday

The slaying took place at the Broken Arrow home of Miss Ora Benedict, fiancee of Lemon, an oil worker from Pampa, Texas. Creekmore allegedly called at the Benedict home where Lemon was spending the evening with his finance, called him to the yard, and wounded him fatally.

The young farmer was believed to have eluded searching parties by hiding in the Verdigris river bottoms.

When Creekmore surrendered, he was accompanied by a lawyer, who would not permit the accused man to make a statement.

YOUNG CORSICANA WOMAN DIED EARLY MONDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. E. F. Grice, age 22 years, died at the P. and S. Hospital at 12:30 Monday afternoon. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Campbell cemetery where interment will be made. The services will be conducted by Rev. Mrs. Birmingham.

Surviving are her husband, two children, Donald Dwane, and Keleta Dell, all of Corsicana; three brothers, Richard White, Jessie White and A. J. White, Corsicana; two sisters, Mrs. Ray Whitfield, Montfort; Miss Levene White, Corsicana; her mother and other relatives.

Corley Funeral Home will direct the funeral arrangements.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Finch.

The Finch Home Demonstration club met in regular session July 12 at the home of Mrs. Effie Rose. Each club member made a talk on how helpful their foundation pattern was in making their dress and underwear.

Mrs. Effie Rose, wardrobe demonstrator, gave an interesting talk on the county rally day which was enjoyed by everyone.

The wardrobe was inspected. It is excellent and certainly is a help as the clothes are always in place. Also the shoe rack keeps the shoes in place and from losing shape.

Those present were Mrs. Cora Beck, vice president; Mrs. Effie Rose, Mrs. Bessie Ferris, Mrs. Agnes Scott, Mrs. Bertha Griffith and Mrs. Lula Grace.—Reporter.

Powell.

Financing the trip to short course at A. and M. for the H. H. club girl and club member was the topic of discussion at the regular meeting Friday of the Powell Home Demonstration club, at the Mosses Kemer's.

Mrs. Roy Bunch, wardrobe demonstrator, was awarded the trip to short course from Powell.—Reporter.

Tupelo.

On Tuesday afternoon, July 9, Tupelo Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. R. B. Burdine. The house was called to order by the chairman, Mrs. L. C. Lockhart. As the roll was called each member answered to their name with something they had learned in using their foundation pattern.

Buying a new sealer was discussed and the decision was to have the old one repaired at present. Lunch to carry was planned for those going to the rally Thursday.

After other little business was brought before the house the motion was made and seconded to adjourn. KReporter.

LIQUOR ASSAILED AT RALLY OF TEXAS DRYS IN DALLAS

DALLAS, July 15.—(AP)—Texas drys assailed liquor last night in a rally here, and announced that they would ask Governor Allred to go on the stump for them.

As an aid in the fight against a proposed constitutional amendment that would legalize liquor in Texas, Dr. L. N. D. Wells, Dallas, said: "We hope our good governor will lend his voice to our cause and we will ask him to make two or three speeches to help us in our cause."

Former Governor Pat M. Neff will make speeches for the dry cause, Dr. Wells said.

Bishop H. A. Boaz, Fort Worth; Dr. George W. Truett, president of the World Baptist Alliance, Dallas, and Bishop A. Frank Smith will visit some of the larger Texas cities this week, it was announced, in an effort to rally the public to the dry campaign.

MEAL BELIEVED BE FREE PROVED TO BE DECIDEDLY COSTLY

Three Dallasites, according to local officers, played a trick at a local cafe at an early hour Monday morning when they drank a quantity of beer and had a fine meal served them.

The story goes that the trio sped away in a car before paying the check, apparently free.

Dallas officers were notified, given the license numbers, etc., and a short time later the driver was arrested. He was brought back to Corsicana by Deputy Sheriff Jack Floyd and was fined $21.25 in justice court on a swindling charge and also paid the bill owed at the cafe.

Tyler Child Falls From Window; Lung Punctured By Glass

TYLER, July 15.—(AP)—Eighteen month-old George Maurice Ward son of Mrs. G. M. Ward, early today quit his play in a bed and crawled to a nearby window sill.

The screen was unhooked and George Maurice plunged to the ground.

The screen banged into the window pane and a sliver of glass fell and punctured the child in the right lung.

Physicians were called and found the child breathing through a two-inch lung puncture. He is near death.

Acquittal Ordered Two of Five Former Prison Camp Heads

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 15.—(AP)—Verdicts of acquittal for two of five former prison camp officials charged with mistreating two negro prisoners were directed by Judge Wilson Warlick today when the state closed its case.

Judge Warlick ruled the state had not introduced evidence sufficient to warrant jury deliberations of the charges against T. M. Gordon and J. W. Eudy, former camp guards.

Motions for directed verdicts of acquittal for the other defendants, Henry Little, former convict camp "boss;" Dr. C. S. McLaughlin, former camp physician, and R. C. Rape, former guard, were lodged by the defense and argument of them begun.

Sick and Convalescent.

The condition of J. M. Kerr, who underwent an operation recently at the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic, was reported to be about the same shortly before noon Monday. He is regarded in a serious condition.

A. C. Venable was taken home Sunday from the Navarro Clinic where he underwent an operation recently.

Miss Joan Jester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beauford J. Jester, was reported by Navarro Clinic attaches to be doing fine Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Haste had a fine baby-daughter born to them at the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic early Monday morning. Both mother and baby were reported resting well in the afternoon.

HAUPTMANN TRIAL CONDUCTED GIVEN CRITICISM BY BAR

AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION WOULD TAKE STEPS PREVENT SUCH REPETITION

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—(AP)—In a report for submission at the opening session of the American Bar Association convention today, the committee on co-operation between the press and the bar criticized the conduct of the Bruno Hauptmann trial and demanded steps be taken to prevent a repetition of "such incidents" as occurred in the trial.

"If press reports are accurate the attorneys for the defendant, and the prosecuting attorney as well, took advantage of the situation and by personal interviews given to representatives of the press, and by talks over the radio, seemed wholly to disregard all the accepted rules of dignity and ethics with which the profession and the courts have sought to surround the trial of a man for his life," the reports said.

The committee said that to treat "a simple trial as a public show, as was done in the sensational trial of Bruno Hauptmann, is to cheapen life itself by causing people generally to undervalue the life of the criminal, and to increase the morbid desires of sensation seekers."

Declaring it felt that "substantial results cannot be accomplished by legislation," the committee urged that a committee be established on th relations between the press and bar, consisting of a small number of lawyers of outstanding ability, and representatives of the Associated Press, the International News Service, and the United Press, together, if desired, with representativs of the National and Columbia Broadcasting companies, to make a nationwide survey of conditions surrounding the publicity given to criminal trials.

The committee recommends that such a conference devise ways and means for carrying on this type of publicity, so that all trials of criminal cass be conducted only before the judges and juries of the court in a manner conforming to recognized standards of judicial dignity and deportment," the report continued.

TEXAS AGRICULTURE COMMISSIONER ASKS HIGH FARM PRICES

M'DONALD SUGGESTS 20 CENTS POUND FOR COTTON AND $1.50 BU. FOR WHEAT

NEW ORLEANS, July 15.—(AP)—Addressing the southwide agricultural and industrial conference here today, J. E. McDonald, agricultural commissioner of Texas, urged amendments to the agricultural adjustment administration act to allow the sale of cotton in the United states on a protected basis.

He suggested a domestic price of 20 cents a pound for cotton, $1.50 a bushel for wheat and 'comparable prices on that portion of our major agricultural crops domestically consumed."

McDonald declared that under the domestic allotment principles of the Dies bill, now before congress, 'the price of that portion of our major agricultural crops domestically consumed would be held at such levels as would assure prosperity."

He advised that all farms should be prorated under AAA regulations and that the prorata on each should be sold at the protected prices in this country with the balance sold abroad at any price it would bring.

McDonald said this principle is that upon which the manufacturing industry of the United States operates successfully.

Under it, he said, the domestic market pays protected prices and the surplus is sold abroad at or near the cost of manufacture.

Some speakers today took the view that the governments program to help agriculture was "wisely conceived but poorly executed" and that modifications were needed to purevent harmful effects.

Conditional Pardon Granted Wife Slayer Other Clemencies

AUSTIN, July 15.—(AP)—Governor Allred today granted a conditional pardon to Frank J. Costello, former army sergeant stationed at San Antonio, convicted in Bexar county for murdering his wife. He was convcted April 24, 1933.

Elias Flores, convicted in Val Verde county, for assault to murder was granted a general parole for deportation.

Other general paroles issued included:

Fred Scott, convicted of murder in Harris county, January 1, 1933, and snetenced to two to five years.

Frederico Terrasas, convicted in El Paso county of criminal assault. Terrasas was ordered deported.

An Old Violin to Furnish Music On Thursday Evening

Prof. Robert Key, Jr, who is in charge of the musical program at the Salvation Army Hall Thursday night, July 18th, will render several selections on the famous old violin

The old instrument is owned by Dr. Joe B. Williams, president of the Southern Gospel Workers, Inc., of Corsicana, Tex., and is said to have been made by the immortal John Jasper ,who was for 50 years a slave and a preacher of the God-made type; a man who was great in his bondage and became immortal in his freedom.

The public is cordially invited to attend this service and enjoy the music. Dr. Williams will bring a short message and story that will be interesting to both young and old. —Reporter.

Long previously had told the "Old Regulars" that he would assemble the legislature in special session "within 24 hours" after they obtained the signatures of a majority of the voters of the city to ouster petitions.

NEW ORLEANS, July 15.—(AP)—Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley's deserting political organization caucused today to decide whether it would follow Senator Huey P. Long's wishes and circulate petitions for Walmsley's removal by the legislature.

Most of Walmsley's leaders "surrendered" Friday to Long.

The mayor spoke for an hour over the radio last night, blaming the city's financial difficulties on Long and reasserting his intention never to "compromise or surrender." Long previously had asseted Walmsley must "get out."

The mayor said Long, "with his controlled legislature and his controlled tax commission, by taking away revenues on the one hand and making the time of collection of what revenues are left us uncertain," had made it impossible for the city to borrow money.

The city's treasury was exhausted today with payment to employes of 50 per cent of salaries for the first half of July, the first payments since June 1. Workers in a number of city departments are being paid by the FERA.

"Does Senator Long care about what happens here in the City of New Orleans?" Walmsley asked. "You know he does not and I know he does not. His sole interest is power, power, power."

He said Long sought control of the old regular organization to bring him badly needed additional political support in the gubernatorial and senatorial campaign next January.

Originating in Louisville, the suit normally would have come to the court here on appeal, but Secretary Ickes instead had it carried directly to the supreme court. On March 11, however, the government sought and obtained dismissal of its petition in that court, in order to return the case here for decision, its attorneys later appealing for early action by this court on the ground delay would "create a chaotic condition in the carrying out of the entire program of the federal emergency administrator of public works."

TEXANS PROTESTING PLANS GOVERNMENT TO PURCHASE LANDS

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—The forest service's plan to purchase more than 1,000,000 acres waste timber land in East and Southest Texas drew a vigorous protest today from Representative Dies (D-Tex.) and Patton (D-Texas).

They complained to Secretary Wallace that sale of this land would cause such a reduction in tax rolls of 11 counties as to embarrass them seriously. They said that while they approved of the program in general, they thought the administration should reimburse those territories for lost taxable values.

AGREEMENT SIGNED EXPECTED TO TREBLE TRADE TWO NATIONS

ACTION ENDED EIGHTEEN YEARS OF UNSATISFACTORY COMMERCIAL RELATIONS

WASHINGTON, July 13. (AP)—The United States and Soviet Russia today signed a trade agreement expected by officials of both governments to treble the value of trade between the countries.

This action ended 18 years of commercial relations which were considered unsatisfactory.

The state department said the trade agreement, concluded in Moscow through an exchange of notes between William C. Bullitt, the American ambassador, and Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar and foreign affairs, pledges the Soviet government to make purchases totalling $30,000,000 in the United States during the next 12 months.

In return the United States has granted Russia all benefits contained in trade agreements already concluded with Belguim, Haiti, and Sweden and will extend all benefits accruing from trade pacts to be concluded with other countries.

Concessions granted in the Cuban-American trade agreements are specifically excepted.

The new agreement contains no mention of and in no way relates to, the long pending Russian debt question involving more than $700,000,000 in debts contracted by the Izarist and Kerensky regimes.

Negotiations Break Down.

Negotiations attempting to reach a mutually satisfactory solution of that 15-year-old controversy broke down six months ago because of Russian insistence on cash and credits, understood to total $200,000,000, as an integral part of the debt settlement.

The Russo-American agreement involves no reciprocal concessions in tariff rates.

Although not a part of the Roosevelt administration's foreign trade expansion program, the new agreement is intimately related to it and is expected by American officials to provide a sound basis for mutually beneficial expansion of trade.

The Soviet government is virtually a "trust" and controls all exports and imports to and from Russia and is in a position to enforce the agreement.

Officials said the anticipated trade increase was expected to result in a gain of more than 100 per cent over American exports to Russia in 1934, which amounted to $14,867,000 and to increase by approximately 150 per cent the acreage American exports from 1932 to 1934 inclusive.

Signed In Moscow Also.

MOSCOW, July 13.—(AP)— A trade agreement between Soviet Russia and the United States was signed this afternoon by United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt and Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff.

The agreement, for a 12-month period, provides, Bullitt said, that Russia must spend $30,000,000 on the purchase of products in America during that term. Her total expenditures in the United States last year were approximately $12,000,000.

The agreement goes into force immediately and contains a clause providing for the negotiation of a new pact 30 days before the present understanding expires.

LESS COTTON WAS CONSUMED DURING MONTH OF JUNE

SLIGHT INCREASE OVER SAME MONTH LAST YEAR IS REPORTED, HOWEVER

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(AP)—Cotton consumed during June was reported today by the ceusus bureau to have totaled 385,946 bales of lint, and 61,905 bales of linters, compared with 469,250 and 65,501 dring May this year ,and 363,262 and 54,587 during last year.

Cotton on hand June 30 was held as follows:

In consuming establishments, 882,947 bales of lint and 206,121 of linters, compared with 979,130 and 231,225 on May 31 this year, and 1,326,089 and 247,332 on June 30 last year.

In public storage and at compresses, 6,077,634 bales of lint and 35,423 of linters, compared with 6,560,247 and 49,416 on May 31 this year, and 5,984,939 and 30,590 on June 30 last year.

Imports for June totaled 6,403 bales, compared with 10,423 for May this year, and 9,751 for June last year.

Exports for June totaled 344,955 bales of lint and 19,006 of linters, compared with 278,977 and 21,910 for May this year, and 459,226 and 14,263 for June last year.

Cotton spindles active during June numbered 22,790,200, compered with 23,027,780 during May this year, and 24,621,334 during June last year.

Alcatraz Lifer Says Witnessed Banker Slaying

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 13.—(AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, head of the federal bureau of investigation, today described as "true" a report that John Paul Chase, life-termer in Alcatraz federal penitentiary, had admitted he was a witness to the slaying of Roy Frisch, Reno banker.

"Baby Face" Nelson, shot to denth in Niles Center, Ill., by federal agents last November, was named by Chase as the killer, Hoover said.

Hoover said "a further investigation" of the convict's story was being made.

ITALY WILL ATTEND MEETING LEAGUE COUNCIL TO OPPOSE NAMING ARBITRATOR OF FEUD

By ANDRUE BERDING
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

ROME, July 13.—(AP)—Italy will attend a meeting of the council of the League of Nations if one is called shortly on her dispute with Ethiopia, it was said today in authoritative circles.

At the same time authorities, commenting unofficially on Secretary Hull's declaration in support of the Briand-Kellogg pact, asserted Italy in "no way has violated" that treaty.

Italy's attitude toward the league will be that the council cannot proceed to name an arbitrator, or fifth member, to the conciliation commission, whose labors recently broke down.

Any attempt on the part of the council to interpose its will in the controversy will be met with the strongest opposition, it was made clear, and if such an action on the part of the council should continue Italy would leave the League of Nations.

Rome contends that the commission was constituted to discuss the specific question of frontier incidents and that it bogged up because Ethiopia sought to inject the question of frontiers.

Therefore, it argued, an arbitrator cannot be appointed until the four members had exhausted a discussion of the question placed before them by the League—that of frontier incidents.

Itally Denies Violations.

Discussing Hull's statement, Italian circles said since there has been no violation of peace, it was said, the Kellogg pact does not come into play. Official statements were withheld until the full text of Hull's statement is received.

Italian circles insisted Italy was the victim of aggression in recent Ethiopian border incidents and had made every effort to settle its differences with the African kingdom.

The Washington statement was unofficially said to add nothing to the American note sent to Addis Ababa, regarded here and in other European capitals as a rejection of Ethiopia's request that the United States bring pressure on Italy through invocation of the Kellogg pact.

Fresh "anti-Italian" incidents were charged against Ethiopia and 43,000,000 Italians appeared ready to avenge them.

A communique announced the detention for two days at Gondar, Ethiopia, of Signora Raffaele di Laura, wife of the Italian consul. Morning newspapers commented bitterly.

Movements Speeded Up.

Transport movements to East Africa are increasing rapidly as the apparent "zero hour" September—draws nearer. Two thousand Genoese and Trieste longshoremen, sent to East Africa to speed up the unloading of ships, are hastening them back to Italy.

In commenting on Hull's declaration, some circles said Italy may still be able to achieve her aims in Ethiopia without war. There was no hesitation in voicing those ams—a protectorate backed by military occupation.

If Emperor Haile Selassie will ask for this protectorate, giving Italy the economic Hinterland she needs for her East African colonies, there will be no war.

NATURE CALMS DOWN BUT LEFT FOUR SCORE DEAD OVER NATION

SCORCHING HEAT, FLOODS, RAINS AND LIGHTNING TAKE TOLL DURING WEEK

CHICAGO, July 13.—(AP)—Nature's latest rampages of scorching heat, floods, rain and lightning appeared to be subsiding today, but in their wake was an unofficial toll of four score dead, includin gat least 20 drowned.

Promises for cooler weather were held out to the East after two days of searing heat. Moving eastward after a swing through the Middlewest, a heat wave in the Atlantic seabord states sent temperatures soaring yesterday, with New York reporting its highest mark this year. A dozen died from the hot weather and in drownings.

Showers brought relief to the Middlewest, but the rain was not general. At St. Paul where the temperature dropped into the eighties, four were drowned. At Mascoutah, Ill., a farmer was killed by lightning.

The weather bureau here reported the heat wave was broken southward over Oklahoma and into Arkansas, also, but said the Pacific slope would get more hot weather today. One heat death was reported yesterday at Laredo, Texas, and in Needles, Calif., the mercury climbed to an official reading of 114 degrees.

At Granada, Colo., where nine drowned yesterday, when streams suddenly left their banks following cloudbursts, the waters were reported going down. The Heart river at Mandan, N. D., likewise was subsiding after forcing 25 persons to leave their homes. In the East, flood waters had sufficiently subsided to permit Gov. Herbert Lehman of New York to inspect devastated areas in the state.

At Yellowstone Park, 125 CCC workers spent a hot day on the park outskirts fighting a forest fire which officials said was caused by lightning.

Limestone County Planning Board In Session Groesbeck

GROESBECK, July 15.—(Spl.)—The Limestone county planning board met here Monday to complete plans for a master plan for highways for the county, and to discuss most needed lateral roads for WPA projects.

Four members of the court, J. J. Clonts, John Mackey, Frank Burke and Ike Kennedy, together with Engineer Harvey Bennett, returned recently from a trip to San Antonio where they conferred with H. P. Drought, state works progress administrator, concerning building of "far mto market" roads under WPA.

POWER COMPANIES BEING QUESTIONED ON LOBBYING FUNDS

ACTION OF INVESTIGATOR IN SEIZING RECORDS COMPANY OFFICIAL CONDEMNED

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(AP)—Questionnaires were sent to all power companies today by Chairman Black of the senate lobby committee to ascertain how much money they spent fighting the utilities bill.

Meanwhile, H. A. Blomquist, the committee investigator, defended his action in seizing records at the hotel headquarters of Philip H. Gadsden, $32,000-year vice president of the United Gas and Improvement Company and head of the committee of utility executives conducting the drive against Wheeler-Rayburn bill.

In Philadelphia Gadsden termed the action "an unwarranted raid" and "an outrage." He told the senate investigators yesterday the utility people had spent "a lot of money, but openly and above board," as all records were available for the asking.

New reports were heard today that the administration may suspend work on the $36,000,000 Passamaquoddy project to harness the tides in Maine. This project was the focal point of recent testimony obtained by the house rules committee. It was to resume its investigation Monday with representatives of utilities companies as witnesses.

Hearings Come Later.

Black said his committee would not hold hearings for several days to give it opportunity to organize and assemble information.

Referring to Gadsden's assertion that the committee investigators did not spare his personal files, Blomquist said to newspapermen:

"I don't know what are his personal files, and which are his official ones. This is a jobb yinvestigation."

He said he went into files only in the Mayflower Hotel office of the committee of public utility officials and not into the files of Gadsden's $250-month apartment in the Carlton Hotel.

"His secretary and others were with me at the time, and examined everything of evidence that I took—both letters, records, and others. If Mr. Gadsden's personal files were mixed in the official files, I could not help it."

Blomquist said at no time during the search were any records examined save in the presence of office employes of the utility interests.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—(AP)—Philip H. Gadsden, vice president of the United Gas Improvement Company, says an offical investigator for the U. S. senate utilities lobby investigating committee rifled his office and ransacked his personal and official papers in Washington yesterday.

Gadsden called the incident "an outrage."

He issued a statement last night after returning from the capitol, where he testified before the senate committee as chairman of the committee of public utility executives.

He said two representatives of Senator B lack's committee—Mr. Mason, counsel for the committee, and an 'inquisitor' named Bunquist—came to his hotel and told him Senator Black wished to see him.

"I assumed that he wished to ask me as to the procedure to be followed, so I hustled right off, without being given the opportunity to pick up a paper or any memorandum to assist me in my testimony," Gadsden said.

"Mason and I got along splendidly, and I have no quarrel at all with him, but my back was no sooner turned than this fellow Bunquist began to rifle my office.

"To make it worse, he actually went through my personal checkbook. x x x

"Upon my return, I was informed that he went over every paper in my desk and in the files, read all of them, and dashed over to the committee room with others.

"I was questioned about some of the papers before I had finished my testimony.

"I think that makes it rather obvious that this man raided my office with the consent of the committee—tacit, at least.

"I would have had no objection whatever if a request had been made in a decent, straight-forward manner—but this isn't Russia.

"I think that it's an outrage."

Tornadic Winds Ripped Through Arkansas Town

JASPER, Ark., July 13.—(AP)—Tornadic winds that ripped along a narrow path in Northwest Arkansas left this Ozark mountain city the task of clearing away an estimated $100,000 worth of damaged property today.

The windstorm did its worst damage here, destroying buildings, uprooting trees and injuring several persons, two seriously. Its path continued south to Dardanelle where minor damage was reported and a negro woman injured.

Scattered rainstorms, accompanied by strong winds and electrical disturbances were reported in other sections of Arkansas but no serious damage resulted.

Jay Milam, Jasper editor, received treatment at a Russellville hospital today for a broken leg and Mrs. Booth Savage, possibly internally injured, remained at her home here.

Other storms were reported at Texarkana, El Dorado, Hope and Newport.

REVIVAL MEETING AT BLACK HILLS OFF TO EXCELLENT START

The annual memorial service at Black Hills Sunday, July 14, attracted a large congregation. The memorial sermon was preached by Rev. Lawrence Shivers, using the fourth commandment, "Honor thy father and mother," as a text. Dinner was served on the ground. The afternoon was spent in singing under the direction of Mr. Robertson from Pinkston.

At the night service Elder D. Rex McClung of Texarkana, who is here to do the preaching in the revival, brought a very inspiring message on "Heavenly Citizenship." Deep interest was manifested by the congregation. Elder McClung, one of the state missionaries of the Baptist Missionary Association of Texas, is a very forceful and logical speaker. With a keen insight into human nature and a keen sense of humor, his congregation is never permitted to tire.

Announcement has been made that on Wednesday night Elder McClung will speak on the subject "Why the Rich Man Went to Hell." Thursday and Friday nights he will speak on "The Four Judgments." These are said to be highly interesting messages.

The singing is of a high order under the direction of Mr. Robertson of Pinkston.

Elder T. R. Vaughan, pastor of the church, says prospects for a great meeting are good and invites the public to attend all services, 8:30 p. m. and 10 a. m.—Reporter.

INSTALLING CEILING FANS FOR BENEFIT PRESIDING JUDGE

Electricians were busy early Monday morning finishing the installation of tow ceiling fans at the Navarro county court house.

One of the cooling devices was placed in the private office of District Judge J. S. Callicutt on the west side of the second floor and the other was over the judge's bench in the court room. The several fans in use in the court room did not accommodate the court on the bench. Buzz electric fans formerly were employed in the court room for the benefit of the presiding judge, but several fans were removed or stolen.

The installation of the fans was authorized last week by the commissioners' court.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR RELIEF CLIENTS IN SEEKING OF WORK

Relief roll clients in order to receive benefit of work under the Works Progress Administration must be certified as to eligibility for work and be registered with the U. S. employment service, according to instructions received by Texas relief commission officials from the Federal Emergency Relief Administration in Washington, this week. The social service department of the Texas relief commission will handle certification of employables to the Works Progress Administration, and this work was started in Corsicana Monday.

The instructions pointed out that priority of workers within families shall be suggested by the social service department, based upon such considerations as health, disabilities, preservation of skills, and morale.

It was further provided that enrollment of a member of a family in the Civilian Conservation Corps shall not preclude the employment of another member of the same family on work projects financed in whole or in part under the emergency relief appropriation act of 1935.

Certification of a client for eligibility to employment under the new program will not mean that the client will be dropped from relief rolls, but as soon as the first paychecks for such employment is received, the case will be closed and relief stopped.

J. O. Sessions of Bazette, former county commisioner, was a business visitor in Corsicana Monday morning.
